FMHS’ Taco Supper/Trivia night Saturday

Taco Supper precedes annual wild ride trivia contest

BY PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - The Fort Madison Music Department’s annual Taco Supper and Trivia night is set for Saturday.

The Taco Supper is a fundraiser for the program with great food, hosted at FMHS from 5 p.m. - 7 p.m. The night has been moved back to the high school due to the popularity of the event. The event had been being held at the Union Presbyterian Church for the last few years, but the public attendance of the event has outgrown the seating availability of the site.

Each student in the music department is asked to provide a specified item for the event (i.e. 1 lb of cheese, lettuce, peas, etc.). The students in the program donate food items for the night and public donations of a dessert are welcome. Desserts can be dropped off at the high school any time on Friday or Saturday before the event. Each of the three high school jazz bands will be performing for this event; all jazz students are to report to the high school band room at 4:30 pm for warm up and prep.

Spring Trivia Night - The trivia night typically follows the taco supper and is a fun event for all families, groups of friends. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

This event starts at 7 p.m. in the high school Multipurpose Room and will feature ten sets of questions ranging in categories from i.e. music, to geography, tv shows, etc. Come early to the taco supper and eat. There will be bottomless cups of soda/water available for $3.00 (separate from the Taco Supper).

Bring some mad money with you. We will be playing head and tails, have a 50/50 drawing and mulligans will be available.

Music students have been encouraged to sell ticket packets ahead of the trivia night to generate funds for their personal trip accounts. Funds generated will be applied to the 2018 Chicago St. Patrick’s Day Parade performance. 100% of the ticket sales will go to the student’s trip account, if the student sells the tickets. Tickets are $10 each for the trivia night. The Taco supper is separate.

Ready to come down

The former Iowan Motor Lodge is set to be torn down in the near future, even as early as 10 days. Meller has demolition equipment on the lot ready to go to work.

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG

FORT MADISON - The dilapidated and heavily damaged former Iowan Motor Lodge is very close to coming down according to city officials and the current owner.

Glen Meller, owner of Meller Excavating, is the current owner of the building and has some equipment on the lot of the structure to begin tearing it down. “We hope to start in the next 10 days or so,” Meller said. “It is our intention to start tearing it down unless something comes up. I’ve got a couple of jobs that may pop up and that might delay it a little bit, but we’re gonna get it down.”

City Building Director Doug Krogmeier confirmed that the city does have a permit at City Hall for the demolition of the building. “We’ve known for a long time that it was dilapidated. He had five different contractors in there to try and make it cost-effective (to rehab it),” Krogmeier said. “We do have a permit here and he’s submitted to DNR.”

Meller said the city never asked him to tear the building down up until two weeks ago when Fire Chief Joey Herren and Meller had a conversation.

“It was never mentioned by the city to tear it down,” Meller said. “I’ve had structural engineers in there to look at possibly renovating the place, but it was going to cost too much to fix the damage by the owner before me. It was a disgrace how bad the owners had it torn up.”

Meller said he originally had planned on renovating the rooms and opening the facility back up for rooms for construction workers who were working on building the Iowa Fertilizer plant.

“We looked at it with him,” Krogmeier said. “I don’t know we would have said no if he could have made it cost effective. But if you have a hotel you have a brand looking after it. But apartments, you just don’t know what’s going on in those places.”

Currently there are broken windows throughout the building, several doors had been broken in, and Meller said after gaining access through the broken doors and windows, trespassers have also torn up the interior walls.

“Inside it’s tore up so bad.” See MELLER, page 2

Lee County EDG hosts career exploration day

LEE COUNTY - More than 360 students from Fort Madison, Keokuk, Central Lee, Holy Trinity and Keokuk Christian attended the 8th Grade Career Exploration Day hosted by Lee County EDG, the Burlington Partnership and Southeastern Community College today.

The students were divided into groups and were able to explore six different career paths in the Arts & Communications, Business & Marketing, Construction & Manufacturing, Family & Human Sciences, Agriscience and Health Science fields.

“This is a great opportunity for students to see the different career paths available in the area as they look at what classes they want to take during high school,” said Lee County EDG Marketing Manager Dana Millard.

“Many of our schools have career pathways students can explore in high school, today’s event allows them to see local careers these pathways might lead to.”

During each session, students learned about a career path, what kind of education you need to be successful, salary ranges and a typical day at each company; Students also heard how a real career differs from what they see on TV. A Keokuk Area Hospital ER nurse told students, “It’s not like you see on Grey’s Anatomy or Chicago Med, you’re dealing with real people and not everything will be fixed within the hour; though most of the equipment is the same.” They also received life advise from presenters. “It’s okay if you change your career path,” commented DuPont Production and Logistics Manager Chase Hennigar, “Ask questions, it’s the only way you’ll know if it’s a job for you.”

Many presenters emphasized the importance of a good attitude, desire to learn, positive communication, and the ability to be flexible as essential to their success.

The Career Exploration Day was part of a bigger regional 3-day event where students visit SCC to hear about these career paths. The three-day event, Monday through Wednesday, included 36 presenters from different careers and 952 students from Lee and Des Moines counties.

Presenters from Lee County included representatives from: Alliant Energy, Connection Bank, DuPont, Fort Madison Community Hospital, Keokuk Area Hospital, ISU Extension, Roquette, and Schiller Greenhouse.

On several occasions the Fort Madison police department has been called to the location after people had seen kids running from the building. “We may have to talk with the owner,” Police Chief Tim Sittig said several weeks ago. “You don’t know what kind of nefarious activity might be going on in there.”

Meller said he didn’t think it would be young kids, but probably older kids and young adults in and out of there.

He also said he was disappointed in the negative comments from the city that had appeared in other articles about the building.

“It was just negative information,” Meller said. “This is why people don’t come to this town...stuff like this. It’s sad but that’s one of the reasons.”

Krogmeier said the city, despite the building falling into disrepair for the past five years, hadn’t pushed Meller to take it down if he could make something of the property.

“We’re just happy that it’s coming down,” Meller said after demolition he doesn’t have plans for the property and said no one has expressed interest in the property.
