ISP puts changes in place to combat drug issue

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG

FORT MADISON – Iowa Department of Corrections officials are changing procedures at the Iowa State Penitentiary in Fort Madison due to an increase in drug and contraband activity at the prison.

According to DOC spokesman Lettie Frell, prison officials are currently investigating twelve incidents involving contraband including a drug known as K2, a synthetic form of marijuana.

In a statement released at the end of last week, Danny Homan, president of the American Federal, State, County and Municipal Employees Union Council 61 in Iowa, said recent activity has been high for drug incidents at ISP.

"In recent weeks, a total of twelve inmates have been tied to an infiltration of the synthetic drug, K2. The inmates involved have either been found in possession of the drug, or near overdose from the dangerous effects of the substance. However, despite the sudden rise in drug-related incidents, the facility has yet to be locked all traces of the drug from the premises."

Lee County Economic Development Group President Mark Prell went on to write that staff at ISP have been notified by the Guinness Book of World Records that they had reviewed all the evidence, reduced the amount of people submitted by one person and recognized the new world record for "The most people planting flower bulbs simultaneously."

Fraise said the documented old record was 850 set in 2014 by a group in the United Kingdom, however another group had sneaked in and beat that attempt just two weeks ago by having 1,293 people planting at the same time. He said that group out of Bentspils, Latvia had paid to have a Guinness on site for the attempt and the record was verified there, however, the LCEDG effort has brought enough people in to still surpass that goal by 191 and the website is currently being updated to reflect the local effort.

"I think it was about two weeks ago, that they decided old record was not confirmed, however, that all 12 are associated with the K2. And for obvious security reasons we cannot elaborate on any procedural changes that are taking place," she said.

A statement released on Monday afternoon from Lettie’s office through the ISP indicated the prison has put new procedures in place to cut off the influx of K2 and any other drug contraband.

"The Iowa State Penitentiary has identified the presence of contraband drugs within the institution and is taking appropriate steps to address the situation. Although the matter is currently under investigation, prison officials have announced immediate changes in procedures with regard to mail and visiting to intercept contraband," the statement indicated.

A statement on to write that staff at ISP has also been provided information both verbally and via email on the identification of substances, including the drug known as K2 and that offenders who have been found in possession or use... See ISP, page 11

City pool deal on hold

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON - A potential agreement that would have given the Fort Madison YMCA management of the Fort Madison swimming pool has been put on hold.

According to City Manager David Varley, the groups wanted to take more time to look over the option. Varley said the agreement has just been tabled until the fall.

"Their board met last week and talked about it and they decided they would wait until next year to get a clearer picture of the operations," he said.

“They wanna take some time on the budget numbers and what it will cost them to run it”

Varley said the YMCA will “shadow” the city this year while running the pool and the city would provide monthly financials to the YM so they can compare how budgeting is done and get a better feel of the operations.

“It was just a little too much, too fast. It’s better for everyone if we wait and then they can see how it runs and get a better handle on it,” Varley said. “We’ll bring it back in the fall and get it all set up for next year.”

Fort Madison YMCA Director Ryan Wilson said the time frame was... See POOL, page 11

More than 6,000 tulips in bloom

verified it and lowered it by one, and they were going to update their records and website," Fraise said Monday morning. "In the meantime, I got on their website and it showed that someone else set it higher. We still beat that number, I just found that interesting."

A committee spearheaded by Fraise and LCEDG Marketing and Communications Manager Dana Miller set plans in motion in the summer of 2016 on a very short timeline and were able to bring more than 1,000 students and close to 500 other volunteers out to the property to plant the tulips that were purchased through donations from local industries and businesses in the county.

On Oct. 18, in less than 30 minutes, more than 6,000 tulips were planted. Fraise said it shows how Lee County can work together to accomplish great things.

“We’re gonna get everyone together. The tulips are blooming and about halfway through their life. We’re gonna have a brief ceremony just to acknowledge all the hard work, industry, volunteers. Cool thing to commemorate,” he said.

Another set of Blazing Star tulips will be blooming in the summer. Those tulips were donated by Pheasants Forever as part of a pollination program that helps benefit the environment and certain native species of butterflies.

The tulips that were planted last fall as part of a world record attempt are now in bloom. The public is invited to attend a celebration Tuesday beginning at 1 p.m. and see the tulips.

Just too short for the board to obtain all the information after discussing the idea in greater detail.

“It was just a lot to be transferred from one place to another in a short amount of time. We want to be able to do it right and do it a professional manner,” Wilson said.

“We need to take a hard look at numbers and see where things sit from a budget standpoint on our side of things. Getting to look over the processes will allow us to have adequate time and good information to make a decision going into next year.”

Of any suspected foreign substances are being handled through the institutional disciplinary process.

In Homan’s statement, he indicated the influx is creating safety issues with everyone inside the building.

“The presence of K2 is a safety concern for both inmates and officers. Offenders have been found incoherent in their cells with head injuries from falling, pretending to be swimming on the floor, covered in their own vomit, and registering a near-death blood pressure with a skyrocketing pulse. The effects of the drug have caused inmates to be extremely combative with staff until they come down, at which point they have no recollection of their behavior. The drug itself is difficult to detect, especially for K9s, due to frequently changing strains. This problem is significant enough that inmates themselves are expressing concern that someone is going to get seriously hurt.”

Lady Hounds win in OT at MP

MT. PLEASANT - Taylor Shannan scored three goals, including one in OT, to lift the Fort Madison Bloodhounds to a 4-3 win over Mt. Pleasant in girls high school soccer action Monday.

The Hounds had a 3-0 lead going into the second half, but Mt. Pleasant came storming back with two goals in the first 10 minutes of the final period.

Shannan scored twice in the first half and Dezire Kline found the back of the net for the second time this season in the first half to lead Fort Madison. Shannan scored the game winner less than three minutes into the overtime period.

Fort Madison Head Coach Sebastian Siefert said he was short on experience on the road.

“We played without three starters and had to scramble a bit to make adjustments, but the team came together and really stepped up. It was really important to us to be able to go to Washington on Friday with a 2-2 record rather than 1-3,” Siefert said.

He said goalie Josie Pumphrey tended the net and had a solid game.

“She probably had her best game of the season so far. A handful of great saves and smart plays saved us from conceding more goals to the Panthers,” he said. “Our back three played their part as well. Kaycee McGregor has returned from an injury that had her missing a couple of games and Chayse Lowrey played her first varsity game of the season. Both did an excellent job on defense. Amber Dilsaver filled in for McKenna Fehseke at Center Back.”

Shannan had six shots on goal and voted player of the game by the team. Kline had three shots on goal and one assist. Emily Wolf had two shots on goal and one assist, while Sally Johnstun took one shot and helped with one assist.

The Hounds take on Washington on the road Friday with a varsity matchup starting at 4:30 p.m.
