LEE COUNTY - Voters have said that it’s not the right time to build new facilities and elected Clinton Boddicker as the next Lee County Attorney.

Boddicker rolled to an easy 2,462 to 1,642 win over current Lee County Attorney Ross Braden. The referendum on building a new $2.6 million health department was a bit closer, but still a decisive rejection with 2,289 voters opposing the measure and 1,872 in support of the new building.

The ballots remain unoffical until canvassed by the County Board of Supervisors. Auditor Denise Fraise will give a few more days for absentee ballots to show up that are postmarked Tuesday.

The county board will then sign off up that are postmarked Tuesday.

Boddicker did very well with all the supporters I had in both both ends of the county. I’m grateful that I won and knocked on doors, made phone calls, and stuffed envelopes.”

Boddicker interviewed to fill the position after Mike Short retired, along with Braden and one other candidate from the Dubuque area. Braden was appointed to fill the position in February by Lee County Supervisors.

“After I live in Keokuk, so all my strategy was to focus on a good showing in the north and counting on his history with Keokuk to carry that part of the county. “I live in Keokuk, so all along my campaign with each other. I’m thankful for all the supporters I had in both both ends of the county who went out and knocked on doors, made phone calls, and stuffed envelopes.”

Leadership group graduates eleven

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

MONTROSE - A local community leadership program put a bow on another class year with eleven graduates on Tuesday in Montrose.

The ceremony for the graduates of the Lee County Leadership Academy held at the Montrose Riverfront Landing recognized individuals from county businesses and industries that wanted to learn more about the processes of volunteerism and taking leadership roles in their groups.

As part of the ceremony Tuesday, the participants gave brief descriptions of three community service projects taken on by three different groups of the class.

Kira Krzynowek of Keokuk Area Chamber of Commerce, Melissa Derr of Larry Kelch-Evans in Fort Madison, and Jacob Cook of Independent Can presented on the Friends and Family Fun Day, an awareness campaign put on for the Fort Madison Public Library. The group helped organize a two-hour event at the library where children and adults were shown the programs available at the library for people of all ages. They also aimed to help create awareness of the Friends of the Library program with the hopes of getting more community members to serve on the board. A bookmark contest was also a part of the program and local residents designed bookmarks given out at the library.

Cook said the academy opened him up to many people and exposed him to a wide range of new tools.

“Everyone had their own specialties and there was a wide array of networking associated with this, with a wide range of capabilities,” he said. “And the trip to Des Moines was really informative. You really get to see how those folks work up there.”

Derr said she was happy with the academy and felt it was a worthwhile experience.

“Larry and I talked about it and we thought it would be a good idea to get out there and try it so I signed up,” she said.

Derr said the Des Moines trip was very interesting and informative and opened her eyes to the work done at the state legislature. As part of the academy, the group traveled to the Southeast Iowa Region Days in Des Moines.

Task force arrests woman on drug charges

KEOKUK – The Lee County Narcotics Task Force reports the arrest of a former Keokuk, Iowa woman on a misdemeanor drug charge.

Sandra Minter, 31, of Oquawka, Illinois was arrested on April 21, 2017 on a misdemeanor drug charge. Minter is charged with Maintaining a Drug House, an aggravating misdemeanor. If convicted, Minter faces up to 2 years in a state correctional facility.

The arrest of Minter stems from an investigation in 2014 by the Lee County Narcotics Task Force into allegations that she was involved in the use of illegal narcotics in the Keokuk area. During the investigation, a search warrant was served and items that support the charge were discovered.

The Lee County Attorney’s Office, Keokuk Police Department, Iowa State Penitentiary K9 unit, and the Tactical Response Unit comprised of Fort Madison and Keokuk police officers assisted the Lee County Narcotics Task Force in this investigation.

The defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

The Lee County Narcotics Task Force is funded in part by the U.S. Department of Justice and the funds administered by the Iowa Governor’s Office of Drug Control Policy.
Bousselot of the City of Keokuk and Shandra McWhorter of The Kensington worked with Keokuk’s K-Play program to help raise funds for a new Bentley’s playground in Tolmie Park. The group held a kickball tournament and raised close to $3,000 for the park improvements.

Elisa Pietzcher of the United Way Great River Region, J.P. Stewart of Clinton, Nikki Sugars of Lee County, and Jared McCarty of Pinnacle Foods worked on a project to help create awareness for the Southeastern Community College’s evening classes program SCC Night Hawks. The four visited with industry and school leaders in the county to determine skills gaps and help bring awareness to the school’s night programs and potentially identity worker needs in the area.

Dr. Steven E. Titus, President, Iowa Wesleyan needs in the area. Four visited with industry and school leaders in the county to determine skills gaps and help bring awareness to the school’s night programs and potentially identify worker needs in the area.

Lee County Sheriff’s Department Report

05/01/17 - The Fort Madison Fire Department responded to four medical calls and one smoke alarm.
MEDIAPOLIS - The Fort Madison Lady Hounds got back on the winning track Tuesday night with a 2-0 win at Mediapolis.

The Hounds scored a goal in each half. Dezier Kline scored in the first half on a corner kick by Kaeli Hutson. Emily Wolf scored in the second half for Fort Madison.

Josie Pumphrey held the Bulldogs scoreless and Head Coach Sebastian Seifert said she “had some great saves” and was voted Player of the Game by her teammates.

Seifert said it took some time for the girls to find their game and had no shots on goal for the first 20 minutes and then didn’t have very many other shots.

“The team came out of halftime a little better at their passing game and had better communication but there are obvious areas for improvement. Mediapolis played well and it was a hard battle today,” Seifert said. “They are a very physically strong team and it took some time for our girls to adjust to that.” Seifert said Allison Brune and Kalifa McCaleb played most of the game as defensive mids and did a good job getting the ball away.

“Towards the end with 10 minutes left in the game and the score being 1:0 I told the team to essentially build a wall. We changed our back three to a back four and played five midfielders in front of that leaving Emily all by herself without any forwards in front of her. Only a few minutes later we are on a counter-attack and she ends up scoring the second goal which helped us all breathe a little easier. Mediapolis had been non-stop attacking up until that point,” he said.

The Hounds now stand at 6-3 overall and 3-2 in the conference and host Washington on Monday.

FMHS’ senior Emily Wolf moves the ball against Keokuk last week. Wolf scored one of two goals in the Bloodhounds’ 2-0 win over Mediapolis on Tuesday night.

HIGHLAND - The Holy Trinity Catholic boys soccer team downed Highland 4-1 on Tuesday night to move to 6-7 on the season.

Nick Pothitakis scored three goals and Adam Rauenbuehler scored the other goal for the Crusaders and had an assist. Blake Crabtree also had an assist. Bailey Merschman had five saves on the night.

The Crusaders play at 10 a.m. Saturday against Notre Dame in a varsity game. The girls varsity squad will follow.

Health dept. may scramble with air quality issue

Braden said he would be very interested in sticking with the Lee County Attorneys’ office in an assistant position and Boddicker said the two had already spoken.

“Yeah, I’ve already talked with Ross and early next week we’ll sit down and have a meeting and sort that out,” Boddicker said.

Braden thanked all his supporters, including his family and friends, who helped him throughout the campaign. But admitted being a rookie to the political system was eye-opening for him.

“I think Clinton himself ran a good campaign. I did encounter some nasty situations in politics in general. Being a rookie I didn’t know what to expect. Some people that I consider friends disappointed me in the realm of politics. But definitely not Clinton.”

Fort Madison broke in favor of building the new health department but by a tight margin with all precincts coming in favor of the building. All Keokuk precincts were just the opposite with larger margins of opposition in each precinct. The only rural precinct to vote in favor of the new building was Jefferson Township.

Lee County Supervisor Matt Pflug, who serves as a liaison from the Board of Supervisors to the Lee County Health Department, said it’s just time to regroup and come up with a different plan. He said it’s still uncertain what will happen with the air quality issue at the health department’s current building.

“Well, the only thing you say now is ‘we’re gonna have to regroup and figure what’s next’,” he said. “We’re still waiting on the results for the air quality. We might have to scramble. That’s the concern I have and we’re gonna have to do so something. I mean you were only talking about $7 a year on a $100,00 home. That’s a movie ticket.”

He said he thinks that people are just tired of being taxed and taxed.

“Just doing what government does. It’s a tough thing to try to figure out. What we’ll do is sit down and look at the next move. Hopefully that air thing will turn out ok.”

Boys falter in singles at Fairfield

FAIRFIELD - Fort Madison dug a deep hole early in and couldn’t recover despite two wins in doubles action as Fairfield won Fort Madison 6-3.

Navin Martin downed Dante Seaney 1-6, 3-6 at No. 1 singles and Johnny Hernandez dropped his No. 2 singles match to Gannon Courtwright 4-6, 2-6.

Fort Madison’s Sam Avery tried to get the Hounds a little momentum when he took Elijah Parr to a tiebreak losing the first set 3-6 and taking the next set 6-2. He lost the match in the tiebreak 7-10.

Logan Williams made it four-in-a-row when he dropped Austin Krueger 3-6, 0-6 at No. 3 singles. Conrad Hellman was the first Hound to get a win when he downed Jaron Willmon 7-6 (7-4), 2-6 and then won the two-set tiebreaker 10-8 at No. 5 singles.

Gabe Dezzeo stepped in and took the No. 6 singles match in easy 2-6, 2-6 fashion over the Hounds’ Blake Feuerhammer.

The Hound fared a bit better in doubles action when Seaney and Hernandez dropped Martin and Courtwright 6-4, 6-4. Parr and Williams needed a tiebreaker to stop Avery and Krueger at No. 2 singles 2-6, 6-4 (8-10). Hellman and Feuerhammer returned the favor at No. 3 doubles beating Willmon and Dezzeo 6-4, 7-5 (10-6).

The Hounds travel to Macomb on Thursday.

In jayvee action Collin Meierotto won 1 of 4 one set matches, 2-6, 3-6, 5-7 and won the last set 6-4.

• Maintain central files for multiple individuals
• Use electronic mail/communications or a central bulletin board

REUSE

* Reuse products for the same purpose or for a different purpose

It makes economic & environmental sense to reuse products. Sometimes it takes a creative mind to do so.

• Sell or Donate old clothes, appliances, toys & furniture
• Use resealable containers rather than plastic wrap
• Reuse grocery bags or bring your own cloth bags to the store
