Sheriff’s department to try new K9

MONTROSE - Due to a performance issue in the dual-purpose training of the Lee County Sheriff’s new K9, a committee decided Wednesday to bring in another dog.

At a meeting Wednesday of the Lee County K9 Association, Deputy Uriah Wheatley told the group’s board of directors, Alex, the German Shepherd currently in training with Wheatley, is not performing well in the apprehension model of his duties.

“It’s my understanding the mission of this organization was to get a dual purpose K9. That’s what was paid for and that’s what people donated for,” Wheatley said. “I’m new to this, but I’ve seen dogs that will bite, track, and smell dope. Alex and I went through one week and Alex is a very skiddish dog.”

Deputy Uriah Wheatley is photographed here with Alex, a K9 the Lee County Sheriff’s department was hoping would join the department in August. However, the K9 struggled with defense training and the department is going to try a different animal.

“I’m new to this, but I’ve seen dogs that will bite, track, and smell dope. Alex and I went through one week and Alex is a very skiddish dog.”

Iowan demolition put on hold until fall

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG

FORT MADISON - The owner of the former Iowan Hotel on the west end of Fort Madison said Wednesday that it may be late fall or early winter before demolition is completed on the building.

With just over half of the building demolished and piles of separated materials mounded on the property, owner Glen Meller said it may take another month and a half or longer to get the building down.

“I just got off the phone with DNR (Iowa Department of Natural Resources) today and they said they found some sprayed on areas that have asbestos levels that are just a bit high. He’s going to let me know what we need to do,” Meller said in an interview this morning. “It’s not our fault or anything we did, we’ve just had some construction issues in the past. We’ve been encouraged to be aggressive, specific—”

FORT MADISON - With just a month away before opening its doors at the corner of 18th and Avenue L, officials at Fareway Grocery have released the names of the managers and are planning for the grand opening Aug. 30.

Fareway Regional Supervisor Rick Beckwith said construction crews are still in charge at the site, but plans are quickly coming together.

“We’ve found Fort Madison to be a fun community to come into and very welcoming. There’s a very positive vibe there and that’s exactly the kind of community we love to be in,” he said.

He said the grand opening will be at 10 a.m. August 30th with a 9:30 ribbon-cutting ceremony, but the festivities will be set in motion by the local management team.

Corporate Outreach and Communications Director, Emily Toribio released the names of the management team at the store.

“Our grocery manager will be Mark Braun from the Davenport store and our Market manager will be Mike Hanna from the Iowa City location,” she said.

FORT MADISON - Telligren, the Medicare Quality Improvement Organization for Iowa, is working to help reduce the complications associated with diabetes in the Ft. Madison area. According to the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, nearly 10 percent of the U.S. population is estimated to have diagnosed or undiagnosed diabetes. Additionally, diabetes was the country’s seventh leading cause of death in 2013. Telligren has partnered with The Kensington Senior Living Community to provide eligible Medicare patients in the community with diabetes self-management education (DSME) classes. The classes are offered at no cost and will cover topics such as medication, nutrition, and foot and eye care. Each class is 1-1.5 hours long and will be held once a week for five weeks.

Classes are scheduled at The Kensington Senior Living Community, in the Activity Room, on Tuesdays, August 15 through September 19 from 10:00 – 11:30 a.m. If interested in signing up, call The Kensington Senior Living Community at 319-372-4223.

Asbestos, work load push project back

Fred Harold Doty, of Fort Madison, Iowa after a couple of times to deal with that.”

He said his company, Meller Excavating & Asphalt of Fort Madison, can load and haul the materials, but they aren’t certified to remove it.

“They’ve come out and inspected us a couple times and each time they’ve found asbestos. So we have to hire someone to come out and remove it, then we can move on.”

But he said now the excavating jobs have increased and the lowan demolition will be put on hold until he can find time to do it.

“We’ve just gotten a couple of pretty big jobs recently so we’re gonna have to wait about a month and half before we can begin working on it again,” he said.

Meller said he hasn’t seen any people roaming in the area and hopes they stay away for safety reasons while he works the demolition back into the schedule.

“If I had my way, it’d be done by now. I want to get it down and then try to sell the property but that’s just the way these things go sometimes.”

Nathan Stueve, environmental specialist with the DNR said there have been several inspections that have turned up asbestos.

“One inspection had been completed and they had done the abatement,” Stueve said. “We went out on another one and we found more material that had asbestos in it. They stopped doing work there at that point, per our request, until the rest of the material is removed.”

Stueve said DNR would probably inspect the location again to make sure the abatement has been completed.

Tyrone Lee Wilson, 42, of 1610 Avenue M, Fort Madison, Iowa was arrested on July 26th, 2017 at his residence on felony and misdemeanor drug charges. The arrest of Wilson stems from an investigation by the Lee County Narcotics Task Force into allegations that he was involved in the distribution of illegal narcotics in the Lee County area. A search warrant was served in connection to this investigation and items that support the charges were discovered. The Lee County Attorney’s Office, Fort Madison Police Department, Iowa Division of Narcotics Enforcement, Lee County Sheriff’s Office, Iowa State Penitentiary K9 Unit, and the Tactical Response Unit comprised of Keokuk and Fort Madison Police Officers assisted the Lee County Narcotics Task Force in this investigation.

Fareway retail setup could begin in next two weeks

“Every store does things a little bit different but we try to make those openings a fun and festive atmosphere,” Beckwith said according to a store schedule the management team should be in the store in the next 10 days or so and then they should be able to take a good look at the retail operation. “Beyond that we’re just in the development stages. A lot of (grand opening plans) fall into place a few weeks before we open. We’ll have a better idea at that point. But we’re very excited to take possession and get it open.”

We will probably have certain vendors that will have special offers and some sampling going on, but we’re going to be a very busy place for those hours on opening day,” he said.

New K9 to arrive within weeks

We said from the beginning Alex was on a probation and he isn't different from any other office. If the handler wasn't doing his job he would be sent home, too."

- Stacey Weber, Lee County Sheriff

Lee County Sheriff Stacy Weber said the company that provided the dog is on board with exchanging the animal and has already identified an animal for the exchange.

"I don't want the public to think we went out and bought a drug-sniffing dog because that ain't it. If Alex can't do the job, he gets treated like any other officer that can't cut the mustard," Weber said.

"We said from the beginning Alex was on a probation and he isn't different from any other officer. If the handler wasn't doing his job he would be sent home, too," Weber said.

The new K9 would be exchanged in the next couple of weeks. The new dog would be brought back to Wheatley for a one-week break in and bonding session. Then the new dog and Wheatley will return to training in Fort Dodge.

"It's a hiccup, it's a bump in the road," Weber said.

The committee also received an update on a second K9 that is showing great promise. The department is hoping to have the dog on staff at the end of the year or early spring. That dog is in South Carolina and is about 8 months old.
