Local group wants to put haunted house at Fort

Commission agrees to look at plans; Watkins has concerns

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR
FORT MADISON - A local business woman got a nod from the Old Fort Commission to propose holding a haunted house on the Old Fort property for the last three weeks in October.

Jadi Zioui, owner for Fort Madison Emporium and the new co-owner of the Parthenon Steakhouse, said she had been talking with volunteers and city Tourism Director Jean Peiton about putting together the haunted house. She said Peiton suggested she approach the Old Fort Commission. Old Fort Director Dr. Eugene Watkins asked that no vintage costumes be used due to possible damage. “Are they providing their own costumes?” Watkins asked. “A lot of times that stuff doesn’t wash out and these are very expensive to replace.” Zioui said the group would bring in their own costumes. “I sent me, and me and her have been talking about Halloween and what we can do to make it more awesome than normal, but not cost any money to anyone,” Zioui said.

“We’re talking about doing a haunted house and using the Old Fort. Not a whole lot would need to be done. The fort at night is probably pretty scary as it is and we would already have the story with dead soldiers and such.” Plans would include holding the event the on the 14th, 21st and 28th of October preliminarily. Zioui said she was hoping to also hold a party at the fort on the night of Halloween, Tuesday, Oct. 31 to piggy back off the other events going on in town.

“Halloween is on a Tuesday this year and people will want to get their kids to bed because it’s a school night, but that doesn’t mean they won’t want to come back out.”

Loebsack to tour downtown projects

BY PCC STAFF
FORT MADISON - Congressman Dave Loebsack will visit Fort Madison on Friday as part of his “Iowa First” tour around the state. Loebsack will be touring the ongoing upper apartment construction projects currently under way by Barker Financial out of Iowa City with Schickedanz Construction of Fort Madison. The projects include the old Lee County Bank building and Cattermole Library.

He’s scheduled to be in Fort Madison at 2:30 p.m. and according to a release from his office, Rep. Loebsack will be discussing the Chamber lands FM native as new coordinator

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR
FORT MADISON - The Fort Madison Area Chamber of Commerce has selected a new coordinator and the candidate brings a wealth of information and ties to the community.

Savanna Collier, a 2009 graduate of Fort Madison High School has been selected by the chamber’s executive board as the new coordinator effective with the announcement Thursday by Fort Madison Partners Executive Director Tim Gobbie.

“We are excited to have Savanna come on board as she has a lot of experience running events, some of which the Fort Madison Area Chamber already has in place, as well as having ideas to expand that event base to better serve the membership and the general public,” Gobbie said.

“This new addition to our staff provides us the opportunity to evaluate what we are offering as a chamber. We can examine where our strengths are and build the chamber to make it a priority to become a member to make your business a success through all the member benefits.”

Collier replaces Laura Francisco who resigned from the position on June 14th. Collier brings a wide range of experience in event planning, most significantly from her position as festival director with the Amana Colonies Festivals, Inc.

“I worked within the community to provide events...”

that would bring in tourism and economic development per se to the community,” Collie said. “We would bring anywhere from 2,000 to 30,000 into the Amana community during these events. Going forward I’m hoping to do something similar and run these events well enough to help bring prosperity to this community.”

Her past duties included planning, implementing and managing all the major festivals with the Amana Colonies. She also had a stint with the Lake Cooper Event Center in Keokuk, working under timelines and budgets for non-profits; facilitating volunteer efforts, marketing strategies and social media campaigns.

“I loved my job being festivites director in Amana, but I found myself constantly wanting to provide that same service to our hometown,” she said. “I tried to leave home three times and ended back in the same place.”

Collie has a bachelor’s of science from Iowa State University with emphasis in hospitality and event management and is certified with several professional food protection associations.

Collie’s first day will be Sept. 5

She said her initial 30 days will be pretty busy, considering she’s starting the week of the Tri-State Rodeo.

“It’ll probably jam packed with meeting all kinds of people. Trying to get out there and get my face out there and meet people and let them know I’m there for them,” she said.

AREA FISHING REPORT

The following is the Iowa Department of Natural Resources Fishing report for southeast Iowa for the week beginning Aug. 17, 2017

Big Hollow Lake

The water is warming back up to near 80 degrees. Black Crappie - Fair: Crappies continue to stay out in deeper water, waiting for cooler weather. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Go shallow in the early morning and late evening; as the day gets warmer flow them out to deeper water.

Chaffield Lake

Water temperature is about 76 degrees. This 10 acre pond was lowered for repairs and is refilling; still about 3 feet low. The fish are in good condition. The boat ramp is at a usable depth. Black Crappie - Fair: There are some nice sized crappies in this lake; they were out along the edges of the weed beds yesterday. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Mostly sub-legal sizes, but would be fun for a little evening fishing.

Iowa River (Columbus Junction to Mississippi River)

Lots of sandbars are showing up. Channel Catfish - Fair: Look for deeper water holes.

Lake Belva Deer

Water temperatures is back up to the upper 70’s to near 80. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Fish the late evening and early morning in the densest cover you can find, be prepared to lose some lures. Bluegill - Fair: Bluegill fishing is starting to pick up after a couple of weeks of slow fishing. Look to deeper water for the fish. Channel Catfish - Fair: Catfishing has been decent around the rocks along the jetties and on the mounds at the upper end of the lake.

Lake Darling

The water temperature is working its way back up, was 78 degrees this morning (8/17). The planktonic algae bloom is also coming back a little. Largemouth Bass - Good: Bass were getting a little more active earlier this week and starting to hit crankbaits more aggressively.  Black Crappie - Fair: Mostly sub-legal sizes, but would be fun for a little evening fishing.

Lost Grove Lake

Largemouth Bass - Fair: Catch decent numbers of bass in shallower water during the early morning and late evening. They are deeper the rest of the day. Channel Catfish - Fair: Work the face of the dam and along the old creek channel below the causeway.

Skunk River (Coppock to Mississippi River)

The water is getting shallow; motor boats probably won’t have much luck getting around. Channel Catfish - Fair: Find the holes and you can find catfish willing to bite. Use cut baits and stink baits. Mississippi River Pools 19

Tailwater stage is 3.18 feet at Lock and Dam 18. Flood stage at Lock and Dam 18 is 10 feet. River stage at Burlington is 9.06 feet. Flood stage at Burlington is 15 feet. River stage is 525.79 feet at Fort Madison and flood stage is 528.0 feet. We have not received any fishing reports for this pool this week. Channel Catfish - No Report: Try nightcrawlers or stink baits in snags and brush piles along the main channel and side channels. White Crappie - No Report: Look for crappies in the backwaters and sloughs; use minnows or plastics around brush piles. River levels are low, so use caution when boating. River levels continue to fall. Water clarity is good. Main channel water temperature is around 78 degrees. If you have questions on fishing Pools 16-19, contact the Fairport Fish Hatchery at 563-263-5062.
