FORT MADISON - More than 70 people piled into the produce section at Fort Madison’s newest grocery Wednesday morning.

With Fareway corporate officials watching and city residents piled in the front of the store, a red ribbon was cut by Market Manager Mike Hanna and Grocery Manager Mark Braun to welcome shoppers to the fully stocked and fronted aisles of the 19,000 square foot facility.

Fareway CEO Reynolds Cramer, said the journey to lead the Fort Madison district places students’ safety as their highest priority. Recently the opening of the Fareway Grocery in Fort Madison on Wednesday while he crashed a fun day for Fareway customers.

“Obviously our management team and all our great employees are so excited,” Cramer said. “The fun part starts here after we open the doors and start selling groceries. What a great time to be here and have the experience we’ve had.”

Cramer commended Fareway Midwest City Manager David Varley. “The work that you did to help get us going from start to finish has been amazing. David (Varley), all you did and the team work was just flawless.”

Randolph owned the property prior to Fareway making the commitment to come to Fort Madison. “It’s an amazing day for us and I thank you from the bottom of my heart and all of our employees,” Cramer said. “This is just a fun day for Fareway anytime we open a new store especially in a great community like this.”

Randolph said it was a fun day for Fareway, “It’s certainly a big day for the Fareway Grocery Manager Mark Braun, center left, and Market Manager Michael Hanna center right, cut the ribbon to open the new grocery Wednesday morning.

“Shoeloose” hits 45 years clowning around

FORT MADISON - It’s a been 45 years, and he started just clownin’ around after a couple of tours in Vietnam。

“Shoeloose” the Clown has been seen in a variety of places lately, most recently the opening of the Fareway Grocery in Fort Madison on Wednesday and then showed up to lead the Fort Madison Middle School band later that day.

“Shoeloose” a.k.a. Gregg Brockman said this morning while he crashed that Fareway opening.

Suicide attempt prompts local action

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON - The stunning announcement late Monday night that a Fort Madison Middle School student tried to commit suicide has left one local woman saying enough is enough.

Lisa Martinez, a friend of the family of the student, said she wanted to have a gathering at Ivanhoe Park’s shelter house at 5 p.m. on Thursday. “There’s just so much bullying going on out there. Kids just need to know that there are people out here they can talk to,” Martinez said. "We as a community, not just here but everywhere, we have to let these kids know that there are people here that will help them.

Fort Madison Superintendent Erin Slater sent an email blast to all parents at Fort Madison Middle School informing them of the suicide attempt and informing parents that the district places students’ safety as their highest priority.

Mayor says grocery shows value of FM for Fareway and a more exciting day for Fort Madison,” Randolph said. “I get excited any time there is economic development in this community and for me this is just a bit more special. For a company to recognize a need and take advantage of that and seize on that opportunity really speaks volumes for what our community has to offer. Not just for Fareway, but for any business looking to locate in Fort Madison and expand in Fort Madison.”

Fort Madison Area Chamber of Commerce Director Angie Budnik said the opening is just another example of the growth occurring in Fort Madison.

“I want to express our sincere appreciation for the trust that Fareway Stores put in our community by choosing to build this brand new store here in Fort Madison. We, as the chamber, are looking forward to forging a partnership and helping you to build your business. The culture of service and family values Fareway Stores exhibits is one that we think our employees are going to have a good time working here,” Budnik said.

“This is just one more example of the positive things happening in FM to make it a great place to work and live.”

The store is open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Hounds will face versatile Central Lee

Gully, Redd-Donald lead District 5 in rushing/receiving after first week’s game

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON – It could be the game of the season, but it’s only the second game of the year.

Head Coach Nick Ehret brings the much ballyhooed Central Lee Hawks down Highway 61 to take on the Bloodhounds who won last Friday for the first time on opening night since 2013 when they downed West Burlington.

The Hounds have won five games total since that season, but infused some energy into the crimson-and-black faithful with a 39-0 drubbing of Davis County last week. Head coach Tony Shiffman knocked his desk and said everyone is healthy and ready for the game Friday night but the team is still dealing with some of the nerves of last week’s win.

“It’s kind of funny, our kids are nervous. It’s a good, positive nervousness, but I really don’t know the last time we started out 1-0. I think it’s been a few years and they’re just not used to playing in a game like this. This is a big game against Central Lee and I think they may be overthinking it a bit.”

Fort Madison is actually leading Class 3A’s District 5 in passing yardage after the first game with QB Lennon Barker throwing for 161 yards and a couple of scores last week. Coupled with Shance Redd-Donald’s 37 yard pass on the first play from scrimmage off a lateral pass from Barker, the Hounds lead the district with 198 yards through the air.

Barker’s 3rd overall in passing in the district, while Redd-Donald is far and away the district’s top receiver after the first game with 141 yards on seven receptions and two scores. He’s also a force on defense, laying a couple big hits on Mustangs in the secondary last week.

But Shiffman was happy with his quarterback’s play.

“They were a few drops in there and a few bad decisions. But I’m thankful he’s a junior. As a senior... See PREVIEW, page 8 he’s really gonna be on top of things,” Shiffman said. “He made a few mental errors and threw a couple where they shouldn’t have been. But he threw for 161 yards and we threw for 119 yards in nine games last year. He’s pretty excited and you can’t fault him too much. We’re going to keep counting on him to improve.”

Senior Alex Gully also sits on top of the district carrying the football. He rushed 22 times for 161 yards and three touchdowns last week. In second is sophomore Luke Turner from Washington who carried the ball just nine times last week for 148 yards, a 16.4/carry average.

Shiffman said there’s not going to be much change in what the Bloodhounds do offensively.

Offensively, he said defensive coordinator Luke Ricketts is prepared for the Hawks. Senior Austin Gaylord accounted for 214 yards of offense against Keokuk last week, Shiffman said the Hounds need to contain the quick Hawks and keep runs short.

“They ran outside and they have the speed and quickness to do that, but we should be able to match up athlete to athlete with them. It will come down to who makes the least mistakes.”

Gaylord threw for 112 yards and a couple of scores in the team’s 21-14 win over Keokuk Friday. He also ran for 102 yards to lead the Hawks on the ground. Juniors Tyler Hopp and Adam Rooney shared handoffs out of the backfield combining for 39 carries and 124 yards. The Hawks will also go to senior wide out Jared Brisky on some carries.

“We just gotta play sound defense and tackle the football. They don’t do anything sneaky or exotic. They run what they run and come right at ya. We need to force more carries.

“If we can get them to force turns and make sure the 3 or 4 yard runs don’t turn into 30 or 40 yards because they have the speed to do that,” Shiffman said. “Luke’s very well-prepared. He came in Saturday and had kind of a game plan and then came back in on Sunday and fine tuned it and said here’s what we’re going to do in this situation and here’s what were gonna do in that one.”

He said one of the keys to the game will be to contain Gaylord and try to force Central Lee into a passing game and get them out of their comfort zone.

“When you run for 250 and pass for 119, you’re a running team,” he said. Shiffman and Ehret are well-acquainted.

“He was actually, at one point, going to be on staff here,” Shiffman said. “I had a specific plan for our running backs, but he just decided to run here." Shiffman and Ehret are well-acquainted.

“Fort Madison has a veteran quarterback in Lennon Barker who threw for 161 yards, about 40 yards more than the Bloodhounds threw in 2016 combined. The Hounds take on Central Lee Friday night. The Hawks knocked off Keokuk in week 1 21-14.

Who to watch

FORT MADISON (1-0)

Senior QB #20 Austin Gaylord, Junior RB #20 Tyler Hopp, Senior RB #20 Adam Rooney, Senior WR #11 Jared Brisky, Senior #2 Aaron Wills, Caleb Allen.

Fort Madison quarterback Lennon Barker slips by a diving defender last week against Davis County. Barker threw for 161 yards, about 40 yards more than the Bloodhounds threw in 2016 combined. The Hounds take on Central Lee Friday night. The Hawks knocked off Keokuk in week 1 21-14.

Lady Hounds roll MP in 3

MT. PLEASANT - The 10th-ranked Class 4A Lady Bloodhounds started conference volleyball off on the right foot Tuesday sweeping Mt. Pleasant in three straight games.

Senior Leigh Johnson led the Hounds with 26 assists, two blocks and three kills, while fellow senior Amber Dilsaver cleaned things up at the net 20 kills and six blocks on the night.

Fort Madison won the first game 25-16, the second in easier fashion at 25-9 and the third game 25-16.

Josie Pumphrey had 10 digs and led with Lady Hounds from the line with 6 aces. Kaeli Hutson had five kills and seven digs and Kamryn Bailey had eight digs and three aces for the Bloodhounds.

“Our back row served well tonight keeping Mount Pleasant off balance and taking them out of system,” Bailey said. “This led to a good night of passing and allowed us to run our offense more efficiently.

“We had great crowd support tonight and it helped the girls stay focused and kept their energy levels up.”

The Hounds are 4-1 on the season after going 3-1 in a Saturday tournament in Danville losing to Class 1A 7th-ranked New London in three straight to start the day on Saturday. They rebounded to sweep the next three matches.

Governor needs to fill pot advisory board

BY PCC STAFF

DES MOINES – Gov. Kim Reynolds announced eight appointments Wednesday to the nine member medical cannabidiol board.

The following appointments are effective Friday, Sept. 1, 2017, are unpaid and are not subject to Senate confirmation:

Medical Cannabidiol Board
Pediatrician: Dr. Ken Cheyne, Clive
Psychiatrist: Dr. Jill Liesveld, Coralville
Law Enforcement: Mike McKelvey, Mason City
Family Medicine: Dr. Lonny Miller, Creston
Pharmacist: Dr. Stephen Richards, Spirit Lake
Oncologist: Dr. Robert Shreck, Des Moines
Pain Management: Dr. Jacqueline Stoken, Waukee
Neurologist: Dr. Wendy Zadeh, Ankeny

House File 524 (Medical Cannabidiol Act) requires the board to consist of eight medical practitioners representing specific specialty fields and one law enforcement representative.

The governor’s office boards and commissions are still seeking one practitioner representing gastroenterology. The practitioner must be licensed in Iowa, nationally board-certified in gastroenterology and knowledgeable about the use of medical cannabidiol.

priority. “We take the safety of our students as our highest priority and concern. Yesterday, we had a middle school student attempt suicide. We have reached out to the family and are offering any support now and in the future that they need. Specifics about this situation are confidential and sensitive. All students are safe. If you have any questions, please contact the Principal, Mr. Dirth. Again, please know we take the safety of students as our highest priority and our thoughts are with the family,” Slater wrote.

Martinez said she was bullied in high school, too, and she knows from experience that most students won’t approach a teacher or staff. They’re going to wait until they get home. She said the incidents involved in this case were not just at school but also involved social media.

“It obviously clearly cut pretty deep with this girl,” Martinez said.

“You know I used to own a skateboard shop, it was an indoor shop and I moved it to Keokuk. When I went there almost every kid was on probation and when I closed the doors none of them were. People can make a difference and turn these kids around. It’s not 100% on the parents or 100% on the schools. People need to know there are people out here who care. Even the ones doing the bullying, we need to work with them, too. If the bullies know more people are against it that will show them there is more out of doing good than doing harm.”

Martinez said she would like to arrange a march in the city as well to help bring awareness to the problem and let people see that there is support for these students.

She said the walk won’t take place on Thursday but she wants to get people together to share ideas and maybe come up with a plan to help address the issue. Some ideas she had were possibly having volunteers staff the school yard after school. People that could pass a background check or something that would increase the presence for students after school is out.

“I’m so passionate about it. I work at a domestic violence center and my passion is to help people. I’ve worked with the schools and if there’s anything I can do to make a difference even in one person’s life, it is the greatest high in the world.”

Greater vigilance needed to address bullying in schools

Editor’s Note: This letter was forwarded to us for publication with the following note: “I sent the following letter to Superintendent Slater on 8/28/17 in response to the email notifying parents of an attempted suicide by an FMMS student. I’m sharing this with you in order to let other parents and community members know they are not alone in their desire to see change happen for the sake of our children.”

Mrs. Slater: I wanted to thank you for your email regarding the incident at the Middle School. Obviously as parents, our first priority is the safety and comfort of our children. We live in a small community and when something like this happens it is not a single family that is affected, but the entire community.

I’m writing you to let you know that while I appreciate your efforts to notify parents of your intentions to support our children in a proactive manner and remove the stigma surrounding depression and the silence keeping bullies free from consequence. Suicide is a symptom of a much larger problem, and in this situation, it’s a problem that impacts all of our children - not just one.

As an educator you know that a fourth grader and an eighth grader are going to react to this news in differing manners. Do you have a plan for the coming days? What about the students who aren’t comfortable discussing what has happened with their guardians? Do you have resources for them too?

Teen depression, bullying, and suicide are not new issues. They have been a problem for years and will continue for years to come. I see this as an opportunity to come together as a community to support our children in a proactive manner and remove the stigma surrounding depression and the silence keeping bullies free from consequence. Suicide is a symptom of a much larger problem, and in this situation, it’s a problem that impacts all of our children - not just one.

As a parent I am here to provide my voice, asking our school system for more than an email with vague reassurance. As a community member I am here to provide my time and energy to assist in however you need me.

Stephanie King

Reader throws support behind Anderson for school board

Fort Madison School District residents are fortunate to have several qualified candidates running for the School Board. One of those candidates is Gunther W. Anderson. I have had the pleasure of knowing Gunther and his family for over 15 years. Gunther’s three children all attend public schools, however his commitment to the school district goes far beyond the interests of his own children. Gunther deeply cares about the quality of education for all students. He will bring his vision, expertise, and dedication to our public schools.

As a parent I am here to support our children in the district to have the same support and success that he desires for his own children. Gunther possess the skillset to effectively take on the challenges facing our district. He is well respected for his ability to find solutions to tough problems. His open communication will be an asset to all taxpayers. At a time when the value of education has taken a back seat from politicians in Des Moines and across the country our students, teachers, support staff, administrators, and taxpayers will have a fair and passionate advocate in Gunther W. Anderson. That’s why he has my vote on September 12th.

Clowns 45th anniversary at parade will include special float, surprises that even some of his costumes, although buttoned up and always perfect for the occasion are almost as old as the gig.

"I was thinking just the other day, I've been doing this for 45 years and some of these costumes are just that old," Brockman said, wearing his formal attire. A jacket suit and shorts with orange rainbow socks and orange floppy tennis shoes tied at both ends. Yeah...and a red nose.

As the ribbon-cutting at Fareway came to a close and after a few rope tricks, Brockman grabbed his friend 'Ottie the Gooney Bird' and went back to shopping. Shoeloose said Ottie, who was propped up on a brand new Fareway shopping cart, had already been down the bird seed aisle and snarfed down a bag of seeds.

After the event, he made his way over to the Fort Madison Middle School, picked up the marching band leaders septer and led the band off the property to 48th Street.

According to Gregg's wife Beverly, the antics started 45 years ago on a Friday night before the rodeo parade and some friends were at the former Holiday Inn in Fort Madison listening to a band. They invited the band to ride in a float in the parade and when everyone showed up Saturday morning in cowboy attire, Gregg showed up in a clown's suit.

He took a board and chained it to the back of the hayrack float used for the band in the parade and rode that board along the parade route over the top of all things left in the road...by the horses.

Since then Shoeloose has ridden outhouses, water skies, whisky barrel bathtubs and in 2000 road in a covered wagon with no wheels just three months off a quadruple bypass. He was also hauled in the "Throne" in 2005 when he was named Grand Marshall of the parade.

The "clowning around", which is still seen at the Grand Entries at each Rodeo event in September, became a family affair when the couple's children Nathan and Corrine began performing with their father and at times several of the grandchildren have joined in on the fun. Gregg's brother-in-law Michael Manka has also joined in on the fun at times too.

For the past 19 years, Brockman has also served as the "clown greeter" at the Rodeo for an hour or two before each event and then works the grandstand and rodeo areas.

For the 45th anniversary, many of Brockman's friends and family will join him in the parade, included with a special float for this year's parade, there will also be a few more "surprises."

And now he's head of the band, if for nothing more than a few funny moments Wednesday at the Fort Madison Middle School.
