Nelson killer gets 50 years for murder

FORT MADISON — A Burlington man told a Lee County judge how, almost one year ago, he shot a Fairfield man in the eye and dumped his body at Indian Path Park along the Skunk River.

Joseph Mayorga, Jr., 35, Burlington, was accused of murdering 47-year-old James Merlin Nelson of Fairfield on or about Feb. 11, 2017. As part of a plea agreement with the Lee County Attorney’s office and Asst. County Attorney Bruce McDonald, Mayorga pleaded guilty on Tuesday in front of Judge Mark Kruse at the North Lee County Courthouse to a charge of 2nd degree murder.

Mayorga then waived all pre-sentencing procedures and requested immediate sentencing, to which Kruse, after a lengthy procedural discussion with Mayorga on his decision to waive his rights prior to sentencing, sent him to prison for 50 years.

Mayorga must serve at least 35 years of the sentence before he can be considered for any type of release. He was also ordered to pay $150,000 to the estate of Nelson.

Prior to sentencing, McDonald put Nelson’s brother, David Summers of Birmingham, on the stand to give a statement on behalf of the family.

Summers remained standing and looked at Mayorga, who remained cuffed throughout the hearing.

“Joe, you’ve taken from us a great friend, a great brother, and a great uncle. We wish so much we could be in your family’s position that we could go visit him. But we can’t, we’ve lost him forever. You’ve taken a great deal and we love him and we miss him so much. I prayed for the Lord for him to grant me forgiveness, I prayed for the Lord for him to grant me forgiveness, I’ve gotten that, but I will and I pray for your salvation.

I want you to know you’ve hurt us,” Summers said through broken words and tears.

Mayorga made a statement apologizing to the family and said both families have suffered.

“Nothing can take back my actions, Mayorga said in red county fatigues. “I apologize greatly. We’ve all suffered - my family as well as yours. I’m sorry for my actions and for that I’ll pay for the rest of my life. I apologize,” he said standing and addressing 15 members of Nelson’s family and friends.

Judge Kruse asked Mayorga to explain the details of the shooting.

Mayorga said he and Nelson were sitting in his 2007 Chevy Impala in the garage of his residence in Burlington talking when Nelson said something that angered Mayorga.

“He said something about my wife and I became enraged and I shot him,” Mayorga said.

Kruse asked what weapon was used, to which Mayorga replied a .38 caliber revolver. Kruse then asked where he shot Nelson.

“In the eye,” he replied.

Poverty group set to move forward

FORT MADISON - An effort to address generational poverty in southeast Iowa took another step on Monday night as close to 40 people packed the United Methodist Church to hear from West Burlington’s Vern Reed on the next steps of the program.

Reed, the at-risk coordinator for West Burlington High School, is the front man for the effort, known on Facebook as Building Bridges: A Southeast Iowa Initiative. The Monday event was a chance to bring members of Lee County together to take the next step, which was to share an outline of how the program works and gauge the time and financial commitment in the county.

An initial training took place in November in front of close to 150 concerned Lee County residents.

“If things are going to change in our communities we have to look at something different than what we’re doing,” Reed said. “It goes back to our kids deserving a better shot than they are getting today.”

Reed said he believes in what Bridges teaches and that’s what he brings to the table. But he said Bridges doesn’t provide all the answers, but it brings a set of tools to deal with the what he calls the “disease of generational poverty.”

Reed also brought Mona Ash, the full-time Knot Park along the Skunk River.

KEOKUK - The Lee County Narcotics Task Force reports the arrest of a Keokuk, Iowa woman on a felony drug warrant.

Jamey Lynn Hymes, 37, of 1302 Carroll Street, Keokuk, Iowa was arrested on January 22nd, 2018 at her residence on an outstanding felony drug warrant. Hymes is charged with delivery of methamphetamine less than five grams within 1000 feet of a public park, a class C felony with an enhancement. If convicted, Hymes faces up to 15 years in a state correctional facility.
County anti-poverty group starts planning for Bridges program

Bridges coordinator in Des Moines County, to the meeting with him. Ash was a part-time administrator at Young House services in Burlington, but the Bridges group in Des Moines County has partnered with Young House to be able to have a non-profit status and have an in-house grant writing service.

He said the thought process was to put together some big ideas for the Lee County group to consider moving forward. “Is there a committed group to putting together a Bridges initiative in Lee County, if not, then nothing else can happen at this point.”

Reed brought up the hurdles that the Des Moines County effort ran up against in getting the process going. He said he wanted to share those missteps with the group to help save them some of the time and resources that didn’t help the program move forward.

One of the biggest parts of the Bridges program is getting Ahead classes. “This is the high-octane fuel that drives everything in the initiative. A quite close second is challenging the middle class to look at poverty in a different way,” Reed said.

He told the group that child care, transportation, food, and a $20 cash incentive for each person participating in the getting ahead classes are things that weren’t considered in the early stages of the Des Moines County program, that ultimately hurt attendance out of the gate. He told the group that the quarterly Getting Ahead classes will cost about $5,000 to $6,000 per class to make sure things are set for success.

“You have to be willing to measure success in a different way. This metaphorical disease has been happening for generations. We in no way believe we’re going to eradicate this in five years, but our goal is to eradicate it,” Reed said.

Topics during the discussion focused on whether to have one city hold the Getting Ahead classes or have one in Keokuk and Fort Madison, and possibly in central Lee County. Reed said all the Bridges programs have their own identity but he would recommend one steering committee coordinating classes in both north and south Lee County.

Continuing steps will include forming a steering committee, planning the first of the Getting Ahead classes, creating a budget, and looking at financing and coordination of volunteers.

Hounds knock off Class 3 Clark County, Mo

BY CHUCK VANDENBerg

PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON - The Bloodhounds took a big bite out of a tough week with a hard fought win over Missouri’s No. 4 ranked Class 3 Clark County.

The Hounds needed to hold off a late run by the Indians in the fourth quarter to seal a 59-52 win and move to 11-4 on the season with No. 4 Mt. Pleasant looming in a Friday contest.

The Hounds had a slim 26-24 lead at halftime and Clark County’s 6’7 Chandler Bevans was just getting heated up with 10 points in the first half. Fort Madison senior Kaleb Creswell had 11 points in the first half but picked up his third personal foul early in the third period and had to take a seat next to head coach Ryan Wilson. Senior Treavor James-Kokjohn had eight in the first half for the Hounds.

At the 6:37 mark, Fort Madison held a 54-50 lead as the Indians’ senior Cole Kirchner balled a 3-ball from the right side to cut the lead to four. Fort Madison’s Senior varsity/varsity double header starting at 4:45 p.m.

Hounds grapplers pin Fairfield

BY PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - The Fort Madison Bloodhounds surrendered just three losses in a 61-18 win over the Fairfield Romans on Tuesday night’s Senior Night in a makeup dual held at the Fort Madison Middle School.

Nathan Steffensmeier started the rout with a pin on Stetson Spees halfway through the second period. Fairfield’s Zach Barnes got the best of Will Larson with a fall in the first period, but the Hounds’ Aaron Steffensmeier put the Hounds right back on top with a pin over Peyton Cline in the 1:40 mark in period 1. Bryce Britton wrestled at 152, where 4th-ranked Harlan Steffensmeier usually wrestles. Britton scored a pin at 1:16 to hold the weight class for Fort Madison and then Steffensmeier came in at 160 and recorded a very quick 40-pin for his 148th career win to tie Russell Weakley for most wins in FMHS history. Steffensmeier will try to take sole possession of that record when the Hounds host Kirkville and Centerville Thursday night in Youth Night at the Hound Dome.

Other Hounds recording pins in the win were Austin Haas, Lennon Barker, Alex Lauber, and Dayne Cordray. Ryan Steffensmeier scored a 12-1 major decision at 126 and Elton Kruse won in sudden victory 10-8.

Central Lee downs Crusader boys, 72-42

BY PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - The Central Lee boys got 17 points from senior Evan Doyle in a 72-42 win over Holy Trinity Catholic Friday at Shottenkirk Gymnasium.

The Hawks rushed to a 14-7 first quarter lead highlighted by a couple of 3-pointers from senior Jake Fraise and one from junior Sam Hirner.

Central Lee held the Crusaders at seven points for five minutes before a bucket at the six minute mark put the score at 9-18. The game got uptempo in the last half of the second quarter but Holy Trinity, who saw the return of senior Collin Thornton, who has been out with a fractured wrist, couldn’t keep up with the 10-4 Hawks as they put up a 15-9 run to end the first half.

The Indians then missed four straight from the field and were called for three personal fouls in the next 1:30 to put the Hounds in the bonus. Kirchner fouled the Hounds’ point guard Logan Rashid with 5:7 left in the game and Rashid converted both free throws. Bevans scored over James-Kokjohn on the next possession to make it 56-52 with 40 left, but the Indians again fouled Rashid.

The junior hit the first end of the one-and-one, but the second caromed off the right side of the rim where Sheymouhr Redd-Donald was there to clean it up and kick it out to let the Hounds run a little more off the clock. The Indians were forced to foul in the possession and Rashid capped the win with two more free throws with 1:7 left to put the Hounds up by the final margin.

Sheymouhr played a great third quarter offensively and defensively," Wilson said. “He stepped up big with Kaleb in foul trouble and that rebound off the missed free throw at the end was the biggest of the game.”

Wilson said it was the best effort the team has put forth this year.

“This was our best game all season. We played as a team all around and we will need to duplicate tonight’s effort on Friday against a very good Mt. Pleasant team,” Rashid and Creswell finished with 14 points each to lead Fort Madison. James-Kokjohn had 10 points on the night, but held Bevans to just a bucket in the 3rd quarter and seven total in the half. Redd-Donald finished with seven points, Brandon Keester had 6 and Lorenzo Riles and Jaxon Feider each had four points for Fort Madison.

The Hounds travel to Mt. Pleasant on Friday for a junior varsity/varsity double header starting at 4:45 p.m.

FORT MADISON - It was about this time last year when Head Coach Tony Johnson’s Holy Trinity Crusaders went down to Central Lee and became the talk of the town by knocking off the highly touted Hawks on the road.

The HTC girls had several leads on the night, but couldn’t hold off MacKenzie Northrup and the 14-1 Hawks as Central Lee walked out of Shottenkirk Gymnasi-um with a 60-51 win in Southeast Iowa Superconference South girls basketball action.

At the start it looked like it might be a repeat of 2017 as HTC raced out to an 11-4 lead with three minutes left in the first quarter. The Hawks clawed their way back with a 5-0 run but then the Cru- saders put up a 6-2 run, still in the first quarter, to go back up by six 17-11. But Central Lee put six more on the board to trail HTC by one 17-16 going into the second quarter.

Senior Madison Mohrfeld went 4-for-4 at the free throw line and junior Tay- lor Boeding hit a 3-pointer to lead the Crusaders.

Central Lee took the lead with about four minutes left in the first half at 23-22 and then pushed the lead to 26-24 before sophomore Ashlynn Haas hit from long range to give the Crusaders a one point lead, a lead they would give up just prior to the end 27-30.

The third period started much the same as the first with Holy Trinity shut- ting down the potent Hawks for a full four minutes on an 11-0 run that saw HTC up 38-30 and then 40-32 before Central again staged a late period rally and cut the deficit to three at 40-37. HTC hit a rut in the middle of the fourth period giving up a 9-0 run to give Central Lee a 7-point lead at 50-43 and couldn’t get any closer than the seven points the rest of the way.

Junior Emily Box led the Crusaders with 14 points on the night. Senior Brett Schneider, who came into the game third in the conference in scoring, was held to just nine points. Boeding had nine points on the night, Eryn Anderson scored seven, Avery Hopper had five points, Mohrfeld finished with her four, and Haas had three.

Northup led Central Lee with 20 points, Mhya Merschman added 15, and Makenna Hall chipped in with 14. Central Lee (15-1) hosts New London on Friday night.

HTC travels to 13-4 Danville on Friday night in girls/boys varsity doubleheader.

In junior varsity action Monday night, HTC downed Central Lee 61-29 behind 16 points from sophomore Avery Hopper, 10 points from Bailey Hellweg, and 11 from Ashlynn Haas.

FMHS Activities Director Andy Mitchell presented Holy Trinity Catho- lic’s Brett Schneider, left, who ran cross country in the shared girls program with FMHS and the Hounds’ Caleb Gehle with their plaques as 2017 Class 3A state track meet participants. Schneider placed 8th in the 800 meter run and Gehle placed 3rd in the Wheel Chair shotput and 6th in the 100- and 200-meter wheelchair races.
FORT MADISON - Fort Madison Community Hospital recognized Jeri Whitaker as their December Employee of the Month. Whitaker works as a Registered Nurse on the Medical/Surgical Unit at FMCH. She has been with FMCH since May of 2017. Whitaker was recognized with this nomination:

No matter when you see her, this employee is ALWAYS happy and trying to make others around her happy. My staff thinks she is the greatest because of that also because she is the first staff person who has ever included them in things that their department is doing, like a potluck. She just makes them feel better about themselves and the job they do every day. She shows them what they do and has fun with them. When she feels she has offended someone or has been short with them she is quick to apologize. This flows over to the patients who love her too. I had two patients tell me they just loved her because of her personality and it made their day. If we could all take on just a little of her happy-go-lucky personality imagine how much better our days would go! Finally, one day at breakfast she left her change and said to use it to pay for the next customer’s breakfast. This created a fun morning and as the customers were told the ‘why’ behind getting their breakfast for free, we had others leave money just to keep it going. It was a win-win.

“I was blessed to be trained by amazing nurses, Colbi, Courtney and Andy were the welcoming group who showed me the ins and outs of FMCH. The core staff on Med/Surg is wonderful and our supervisor Carolyn holds us all together,” expressed Whitaker. “My favorite part of working here is the wonderful family environment that this hospital possesses.”

Whitaker enjoys spending time outdoors with her husband when not working.

Carolyn Krone, Director of Inpatient Services, left, presents Jeri Whitaker with the Fort Madison Community Hospital Employee of the Month for December, along with Jeremy Alexander, Interim President/CEO.

The Employee of the Month is an initiative developed by the Reward & Recognition team. Each month a FMCH employee is honored for going above and beyond for the good of the patient, their co-workers and the organization.

Mayorga apologizes to family as part of sentencing

Krusse asked Mayorga if he realized that shooting someone at close range could kill him.

“I didn’t...I guess I kind of blacked out at that point. I didn’t understand what was going on...there was a lot going on,” he said.

Krusse asked Mayorga if the crime happened in Lee County, to which Mayorga responded it hadn’t. That caused a brief delay as Mayorga’s attorney Allen Cook and McDonald met with the judge to discuss the issue of the crime happening in Burlington and a possible venue issue.

However, after a brief recess to review the case law on crimes being committed in one county and the body disposed in another, the issues were resolved as Mayorga, after discussion with his attorney, waived any venue issues.

“It was the same night that I drove him to Indian Path, which is in Wever, Iowa in Lee County, and disposed of his body right there,” Mayorga said.

Cook said Mayorga was willing to waive those venue issues to prevent the case starting all over and wanted to put the issue behind him.

Nelson’s body was discovered at the park at about 11 a.m. on Feb. 11 by visitors of the park. According to family members, Nelson was working construction at the Iowa Fertilizer Company prior to his death, but they weren’t sure what his job status was when he was killed.

On Feb. 11th, the Lee County Sheriff’s Office responded to a call of a possible deceased person at a Lee County roadside park near Wever, Iowa.

Upon arrival, a male subject, later identified as 47-year-old Nelson, was found deceased. An autopsy performed on Nelson determined that he was killed by a single gunshot to the head. According to Iowa Department of Criminal Investigations Special Agent Rick Rahn, since the body was discovered in Lee County, the court case would be handled there, however Mayorga had the option to ask for a change of venue.

Mayorga had been incarcerated in Muscatine County on a federal gun charge but was transported to Lee County on Sept. 28 to face murder charges.

Information was sketchy at the trial as to the disposition of the guns charge, but Krusse said the sentence would run concurrent to any probation or parole associated with that case.
