Friday chase ends with chief deputy taing FM man

Suspect was wanted after Saturday crash with deputy

BY CHUCK VANDEMBERG

LEE COUNTY - Lee County Sheriff’s deputies arrested a Fort Madison man at about 12:40 p.m. Friday north of Fort Madison. The sheriff’s department received information through a CrimeStoppers tip that Shawne DeHaven, 46 of Fort Madison, who was wanted for assaulting a peace officer in connection with a recent high speed chase in Fort Madison where he allegedly rammed a Lee County Sheriff’s vehicle causing major damage but no injuries. That chase took place on April 7 and originated out of Des Moines County.

DeHaven was spotted by witnesses in the 2200 block of Avenue D on Friday and reported it to CrimeStoppers. Local law enforcement were notified and began pursuing DeHaven on County Road 103 before the suspect pulled over his vehicle and took off on foot. Chief Deputy Will Conlee and a reserve deputy, Gayle Williams, chased DeHaven and Conlee eventually used a TASER to end the chase. The sheriff’s department put out a wanted notice on DeHaven Thursday afternoon along with a CrimeStoppers notification. Fort Madison Police, West Point Police Department and the Lee County EMS were also at the scene. DeHaven was treated at the scene by Lee County EMS and taken to Fort Madison Community Hospital for treatment and then was taken to Lee County Jail where he is currently being held. Sheriff Stacy Weber wrote in a release of the incident that he appreciated the assistance of the community and the other members of Law Enforcement in helping bringing about the capture and arrest. He said additional charges are pending against DeHaven.

Firm schedules city trash cart meetings

BY PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - Municipal Connections is hosting community meetings for residents to learn more about the new solid waste cart program that will start in the City of Fort Madison on July 2, 2018.

The meetings will offer the opportunity for residents to know more about the program, including what type of carts will be delivered, how to request a 95-gallon cart, and to ask questions they have on the new program. Community members can attend any of the community meetings on the following days and locations:
- Monday, April 23, 2018 - Fort Madison City Hall, 811 Avenue E - 5:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, May 1, 2018 - Fort Madison Public Library, 1920 Avenue E - 10:30 a.m.
- Saturday, May 12, 2018 - Fort Madison Public Library, 1920 Avenue E - 10:30 a.m.

Visit www.fortmadison.lib.iowa.us or Facebook for updates on delivery schedule, video on the new solid waste carts, and information.

OFP names cast for ‘Dial M for Murder’

Theater plans a five-run show starting May 4 on Main Street

BY PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - The Old Fort Players have announced the cast for their upcoming spring production of "Dial M for Murder" written by Frederick Knott. Dial M for Murder is a melodrama that had a very successful run on Broadway several years ago. The action will open at the theater in downtown Fort Madison on May 4, 2018 and run for 5 shows. Dial M for Murder is the story of Tony Wendice who married his wife Margot for her money. When he tires of being married he decides to kill her for the same reason, her money!

He figures the way to do this is to blackmail a scoundrel friend of his into doing the deed for him for a price. This is fine and dandy until the scoundrel comes up dead, so he decides to twist the story and frame his wife for the murder. This would have worked out okay if it was not for a Scotland Yard inspector who with the help of a young man who has eyes for Margot. They figure out the truth and convince the killer to confess.

Margot is portrayed by Dorothy Schulte who has appeared in previous OFP productions and is a past board member. Tony is played by Jim Cole who is no stranger to the local theater and has played opposite Schulte in "If the Shoe Fits" which was nominated for Iowa Community Theater Association annual award show a few years back. Max is played by current OFP Vice President Ty Clute who has appeared in three previous shows, 'It’s a Wonderful Life,' 'Barefoot in the Park' and directed the recent baseball classic 'Bleacher Bums.' Lesgate who is hired to take care of Margot, is played by newcomer Jan Jude. The Scotland Yard...
Q. What benefits am I entitled to receive if I sustain an injury at work?

A. If you are injured at work, you essentially are entitled to three different types of benefits: Medical Benefits, Wage Replacement Benefits, and Permanency Benefits.

1. The first type of benefit that you are entitled to is to have your medical expenses paid for medical care received as a result of the work injury. The employer has the right to choose your physician, but they are required to pay for your medical care. In addition, they should pay you the cost of gas and use of your vehicle to get you to and from your doctor (mileage expense).

2. The second benefit you are entitled to is wage replacement benefits if you have to be off work as a result of your injury. Each week that you are off of work as a result of your work injury, you are entitled to receive a check which approximates your take-home pay. The reason it “approximates” your take-home pay is because it is non-taxable.

3. The final benefit you are entitled to receive is what is called permanent partial disability benefits. These are benefits that are paid upon the severity of your injury and, in some cases, based upon how it affects your earnings in the future. This is the benefit that is typically discussed for purposes of a settlement of a Workers’ Compensation claim.

There are other benefits that you are entitled to if you are injured at work and an experienced Workers’ Compensation lawyer can provide you guidance concerning those additional benefits.

ISU Extension to hold caregiver finances class

Submitted article

BURLINGTON - Life expectancy for Americans continues to increase, so it is more and more likely that most adults will end up caring for an elderly parent or relative. “Care does not have to mean that the person lives in your home,” explains Mary M. Weinand, ISU Extension Family Finance Field Specialist. “It may mean that you provide transportation or other services to a person who still lives in their own home.” For most working Americans, this still requires flexible work schedules or using personal leave days, sometimes without pay.

The Finances of Caregiving provides materials to assist caregivers in protecting their assets and prepare for their retirement while providing care.

This five-week program, beginning May 24, 2018, will meet Thursdays at the Burlington Public Library from 9:30 to 11:00 am. The program is FREE to participants through the generous support of Two Rivers Bank & Trust. When making the decision whether or not to work or reduce your hours of work to become a caregiver for an aging parent or other relative in need of constant care, you have several areas to consider. How will it affect your current spending plan? How will it affect your retirement? “Losing a couple years of contributions when you’re near retirement may not make a big difference in your account balance,” says Weinand. “But, the longer you have until you plan to retire, the greater the impact on your retirement savings,” she adds. For more information about the program please contact Mary Weinand at mweinand@iastate.edu or 319-391-5087. To register online click here! Space is limited so please register early.

West Point library holds kids programs

WEST POINT - The West Point Public library will be holding upcoming kids programs on the next two Wednesdays in April.

Earth Day
The first program, Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., the library will celebrate Earth Day looking at 60 Years of Earth Observations with NASA. The program is open to all upper elementary-middle school students. Early elementary students can attend with parent/caregiver. All activities will be centered around cloud observations. Kids will learn the names of different clouds, how to make accurate observations, and participate in a Cloud Teller activity, as well as learn how to become Citizen Scientists as part of NASA’s GLOBE Observer program. This is a program that allows you to photograph clouds and record sky observations and compare them with NASA satellite images.

Great Piggy Bank
On April 25, the library is hosting a workshop for the Great Piggy Bank Savers’ Pageant for Money Smart Week 2018, April 21-28. Attendees will be decorating Piggy Banks in celebration of Money Smart Week (April 23-30). Pilot Grove Savings Bank will have a representative at the library to talk to kids about the importance of saving money. Piggy banks will be on display at the library as well entered into the piggy bank statewide contest on Pinterest sponsored by JumpStart and eligible for one of three statewide prizes of $100.

FMHS girls hold BHS to four in loss
BURLINGTON - The Fort Madison girls soccer team held 2-0 Burlington to its lowest points all year, but fell 4-0 in the Bloodhounds first match of the season.

Head Coach Sebastian Seifert said Thursday night’s game was the first time in the teams five-year history that they held Burlington to less than nine goals.

“that was a pretty big accomplishment for us,” he said.

Josie Pumphey was voted the Bloodhounds player of the game.

“she had several incredible saves,” Seifert said.

Taylor Shannon had two shots on goal, but Seifert said the team had a hard time moving the ball up the field.

“We had a handful of long balls that didn’t find the right target, but went too close to the goalie,” he said.

The Bloodhounds take on Mt. Pleasant on Monday.

HTC junior high girls compete at VB Co-Ed
HARMONY - The HTC junior high girls track team competed at the Van Buren Junior High Co-Ed Invitational track meet on Thursday at Harmony High School in Farmington.
