Festival goers say resurgent RiverFest is family, budget friendly

FORT MADISON - The north banks of the Mississippi River were teeming with festival goers on Friday and Saturday as RiverFest 2018 shifted into full gear. The festival kicked off Thursday with some high-octane southern rock and roll as the Memphis Dives and Saving Abel gave ticket holders a sense that this third year of the reboot of the annual Fort Madison summer music celebration was something different.

RiverFest Organizer Charles Craft said more than 1,500 people packed into the Entertainment area Thursday evening on the first night and said he knew something great was happening on this weekend. “I’m very happy with what we’re seeing here tonight,” Craft said Thursday night working his way through the mass of people riveted on frontman Scottie Austin and Saving Abel. Friday night he said unofficial attendance was closer to 2,500 as Fort Madison native Brandon Gibbs came back to RiverFest for the first time in 20 years and much to the delight of dedicated fans. Local club favorites Chaz and the Channel Catz got things going before Gibbs, and then 80s power ballad rockers FireHouse provided an evening of nostalgia and a hardening back to a youth buried deep until “Don’t Treat Me Bad” and “Love of a Lifetime” brought out phone lights.

Saturday morning the RiverFest Games kicked off with a 5k run and 14-year-old Miles Sheppard of Warsaw retained his title as overall winner with a 5K run and 14-year-old Miles Sheppard of Warsaw retained his title as overall winner with a 5,833:33. FORT MADISON - Fort Madison’s Erin Slater was honored Monday with a state award aimed at leaders in the state’s public education system.

Slater, the superintendent of the Fort Madison Community School District was presented the award at the Iowa State Education Association’s Celebration of Excellence Awards banquet in West Des Moines.

Slater was awarded the ISEA TEAM award after being nominated by Rachella Davis, a teacher at the Fort Madison Middle School. The TEAM award stands for Together, Educators and Administrators Make it Happen. According ISEA President Mike Beranek, Slater has created a culture in Fort Madison in the short time she’s been in position. Slater was hired in the summer of 2016 to replace retiring Superintendent Dr. Ken Marang.

"It is clear that in her short time as Superintendent, Erin has created a collegial and creative learning environment for the students," Beranek said. Slater said the working together with educators is how the district as whole does what’s best for students. "I am honored to be recognized by the ISEA in support of the great partnerships we have in the Fort Madison Community School District," Slater wrote in a text to the Pen City Current. "Working together is how we do business in order to do what's best for kids."

Slater was also given a three-year contract extension by the district in July.

FMCSD board members Dianne Hope, Gayla Young and Jillian Tres all attended the award ceremony.

LEE COUNTY - The following is the weekly fishing report from the Iowa Department of Natural Resources for the week ending Aug. 8, 2018

Iowa River (Columbus Junction to Mississippi River)

The Iowa River is getting low enough that the bigger sandbars are starting to show. Channel Catfish - Fair: Catfishing has picked up a little. Work the outer edges of the brush piles early in the morning and late evening. Stink baits are made for this time of year.

Lake Belva Deer

Water temperature in low 80’s to upper 70’s; 90 + degree temperatures next week should make that go back up. Bluegill - Fair: Anglers are picking up bluegills in the flooded timber between 10 and 12 feet of water. Black Crappie - Fair: Anglers are still finding crappies while slow trolling in the open water area between the beach and the dam; early morning before 10 am is best.

Lake Darling

Water temperatures dropped a little since last week, but that trend doesn’t look to continue with the weather forecast. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Anglers are picking up bass around the deeper habitat. In the early and late parts of the day, look for them to be in shallow water. Black Crappie - Fair: Anglers are fishing the flooded brush on the north side of the lake in the early morning hours.

Lost Grove Lake

Lots of boats and kayaks out on the lake. Black Crappie - Fair: Anglers are picking up some crappies later in the evening as these fish come to shore to feed later in the day. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Anglers are catching bass in the flooded brush on the north side of the lake in the early morning hours.

Skunk River (Coppock to Mississippi River)

The river level dropped more since last week, but most jon boats should still be ok. Channel Catfish - Fair: Starting to get low enough that you should be able to concentrate more on the deeper holes.

For more information on the above lakes and rivers, call the Lake Darling Fisheries Office at 319-694-2430.

Iowa River Pool 19

Tailwater stage is 5.95 feet at Lock and Dam 18 above Burlington and is falling. We have not received any fishing report information for this pool this week.

Channel Catfish - No Report: Try fishing above brush piles and snags along the side channels and main channel; use stink bait or shad. Bluegill - No Report: Look for bluegills in the backwaters around brush piles. Try fishing with worms under a bobber. Walleye - No Report: Look for walleyes on the wing dams. Cast crankbaits or troll three way rigs with crawlers.

River stages have been falling this past week. Main channel water temperature is around 78 degrees. Water temperatures dropped a little since last week, but that trend doesn’t look to continue with the weather forecast. Largemouth Bass - Fair: Anglers are picking up bass around the deeper habitat. In the early and late parts of the day, look for them to be in shallow water. Black Crappie - Fair: Anglers are fishing the flooded brush on the north side of the lake in the early morning hours.

The following is the weekly fishing report from the Iowa Department of Natural Resources for the week ending Aug. 8, 2018.
Rock bands, Dragon boats thrill spectators

first time in more than a decade, dragon boaters raced downstream in front of hundreds of local spectators. Nick Bauswell, who chaired the RiverFest Dragon Boat committee said it was a perfect day for racing as the “Cedar River Gang” from Cedar Rapids took the overall title on the 300-meter run. Pinnacle’s “Sailidar-Oars” and said he, too, had never participated in the Dragon boat racing.

“It was very cool...it was a little breezy but it was fun.” Bauswell said the teams all had a great time and said they would be back next year. He was also happy.

While horns were going off signaling the start of racing, a 6x6 sand volleyball tournament was taking place in the Games area. The players got a gift from the Fort Madison Fire Department who used a tanker to spray down the sand courts prior to tournament play. Results will be posted when available.

After the wildly popular Motorcycle Stunt Show just east of the carnival grounds, Head First kick started Saturday night’s entertainment, followed by turn-of-the-century rockers Hinder, and then chart-topping Pop Evil. X-Krush wrapped up the night on the river in the Entertainment Tent.

West Point’s Charlie Korschger got a voice mail from Hinder Saturday letting him know he had won an ‘eat and greet’ with the band at The Palms in Fort Madison.

“The bands have all been just a great group to work with,” Craft said Saturday afternoon in a brief moment to chat. “We’re looking for another great night tonight on the riverfront.”

The Conner Family Amusement carnival was packed on a hot Saturday with parents taking advantage of the $20 wristband special from noon to 3 p.m.
