Braden wants four full-time county attorneys

County attorney says current budget will be enough for three

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG

FORT MADISON - If Lee County Attorney Ross Braden can sway Lee County Supervisors, the county will move from currently having two full-time attorneys to four full-time attorneys with one focused solely on juvenile court cases.

Two weeks ago at a regular Lee County Board of Supervisors meeting, Braden approached the board about the possibility of transitioning retiring Assistant County Attorney Bruce McDonald’s position to a full-time position. McDonald is at part-time status with the county, as is Fort Madison Attorney Mio Santiago, because the two both hold private practices, McDonald in Keokuk and Santiago in Fort Madison. County code doesn’t permit full-time county attorneys to hold private practice positions while on county payroll.

Braden wants to convert McDonald’s spot to a full-time at the same $81,000 salary. Santiago’s assistant county attorney salary is $65,000. Braden said Santiago is working 20 to 25 hours per week on county cases. Braden also has Jonathan Stenvaag as 1st Assistant County Attorney. By converting McDonald’s position to full-time, that would give the County Attorney’s office three attorneys.

The Kensington marks 30th anniversary

Standing right, former Kensington director Lynn Hoyer speaks with current Director Leia Morrison at the Kensington’s 30th anniversary Business After Hours and Open House on Thursday night. At left is Jayne Clairmont, The Kensington’s original director in 1988. Seated is resident Alice Horstman who said she had her children at the facility when it was a hospital.

FORT MADISON - It was full-on party at The Kensington in Fort Madison Thursday evening.

The management and staff at the assisted living center were on hand to welcome more than 300 visitors at a Business After Hours held in conjunction with the Fort Madison Chamber of Commerce, to celebrate the facility’s 30th anniversary.

One of the special guests in the building was the original director Jayne Clairmont, who chatted with residents and other former administrators including Lynn Hoyer, Rachel Benda, Linda Larkin and current administrator Leia Morrison. Clairmont said she is very impressed with how the facility is growing.

Monday evening fire damages west-end home

Four fire departments work to extinguish chimney fire

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG

FORT MADISON - A Wednesday evening fire has left a Clearview Heights home with smoke and fire damage.

LeeComm dispatched Montrose firefighters to 2648 Clearview Heights where smoke was reported in the crawl space of the home, according to Kent Brisby with the Montrose Fire Department.

Brisby said a chimney flue may have malfunctioned causing heat to build up in the chimney and then eventually caught fire.

“When we first got there there was a small tent of smoke in a crawl space. We went out to get something out of the truck and when we turned around smoke was coming from the eaves. It turned that fast,” Brisby said.

He said the chimney was cement and could also have been plugged up and when it broke into flames it was initially contained in the chimney itself but eventually spread inside nearby walls.

The home, owned by Jason Lampe, suffered major smoke damage and damage to walls and drywall near the chimney.

“We had to tear up some walls to get to the fire, but the flames were contained. It did suffer heavy smoke damage on the west-end home.”

facility has progressed over time. She was director for 19 months from 1988 to 1990.

“It’s just got warmth and that’s what I wanted,” she said. “The residents are well-care for and the leadership has done things as they should have. Memory Care has become a more prominent focus and aging and they’ve done just a wonderful job. What I’m motivated about is how well the people are cared for. If that’s done right then the environment is the support to great care. But you’ve got to have great staff taking care of great people.”

Clairmont said when the company first took over the property she was overwhelmed at the work that would need to be done to convert it to a residential care facility.

“What I thought about when I work first walked into this building and we had tile everywhere - I was just thinking ‘How am I going to make this residential?’ Hospitals are very hard to renovate. It was lot to bite off because it was so big, it was a massive undertaking.”

The facility prior to 1988 was owned by the Fort Madison Community Hospital. She said the core values of the company and the facility are what keeps the community interested and supportive.

“I think the one thing that has traveled throughout time here has been the one core value of the company and that’s treating people like family,” she said. “That culture has been constant and we will continue to carry that on. The company is really focused on caring for everyone that not only works here, but lives here. We focus hard to make sure we have a lot of options and opportunities for people that want to live here.”

Pothitakis, Williams earn Academic All-State

Box playing in All-Star Classic at Car-roll over weekend

PCC STAFF

FORT MADISON - Post season volleyball accolades keep coming in for area athletes.

Holy Trinity Catholic’s senior Emily Box is was selected for, and is competing in, this weekend’s Senior All-Star Classic in Carroll, Iowa. Box and the Crusaders finished as state runner-up champions at the State Class 1A Volleyball tournament last weekend in Cedar Rapids. Box receiving honors for Holy Trinity Catholic was Elyse Pothitakis who was chosen as an Academic All-State recipient. Pothitakis was a senior libero for the Crusaders this year.

Fort Madison’s Olivia Williams was also a recipient of the Academic All-State honor. She was an outside hitter on the Bloodhounds volleyball squad.

To qualify for Academic All-State athletes must achieve a 3.75 grade point average and a minimum score on the ACT of a 27.

Box and fellow senior Crusader Erynn Anderson were named to the Class 1A All-Tournament team.

The Pen City Current congratulates these athletes on their accomplishments and their academic achievements.

damage throughout the house. Brisby said there were no estimates of the damage available and didn’t know if the home was still inhabitable.

Three other area fire departments were called in for mutual aid including Donnellson, Des Moines Township and Fort Madison. Montrose had three trucks on scene and each of the other fire departments brought engines as well.

Brisby said firefighters were on the scene until about 10 p.m.

P.O.R.T. wants your ugliest sweater

PORT (Promoting Outdoor Recreation Trails) of Fort Madison will host the second annual Ugly Sweater Run on Sunday, December 2, 2018. This is a fundraising event for Phase III of the PORT Trails. The Ugly Sweater Run is a non-timed, family fun event, great for walkers and runners of all levels. It will cover both Phase I and Phase II of the PORT trails for a 3-mile course. The event will start and finish at the Baxter Sports Complex.

All participants are encouraged to wear their best or worst holiday ugly sweater. Participants will then be invited back to the Baxter Sports Complex for an afternoon of football and refreshments. Registration will start at 11 a.m. with participants taking off at 12 noon. To pre-register visit the PORT of Fort Madison Facebook page. All those who pre-register are guaranteed a PORT stocking cap – great for the cold weather.

Phase III of the PORT trails will connect the Baxter Sports Complex with Fort Madison Community Hospital and is slated to be completed by Fall of 2019.

PORT of Fort Madison operates as a subcommittee under the Parks & Recreation Department of the City of Fort Madison with the mission to improve and promote the walkability, run-ability and bike-ability of Fort Madison. For more information, contact Rachel Benda 319-371-5804.
