DES MOINES – The Lee County Economic Development Group continues to collect plaques for the walls of the Keokuk office as state groups recognize the local efforts to bolster business retention and expansion.

On Thursday, LCEDG COO Dennis Fraise and Dana Millard, the group’s marketing project manager, were on hand to receive the award from the Best in State Overall Business Retention and Expansion Program from Gov. Kim Reynolds at the SMART Economic Development Conference in Des Moines.

Millard said the award is the third in four years from the Professional Developers of Iowa and is a testament to the collaboration going on in Lee County between industry and manufacturing leaders and the LCEDG’s highly touted Grow Lee programs. She said it shows the power of what’s happening locally in Lee County.

“I believe it does. People want to be associated with successful organizations and programs and this is another third party validating that what we’re doing here in Lee County is a success,” Millard said Monday morning.

The award recognizes the overall efforts of LCEDG for healthy business retention, including the group’s 12-Plus program and the Basic Industrial Tech certification that was recently created.

Thurman twins return in doubles
FM, Keokuk, and Central Lee runners qualify in track

FAIRFIELD – The fun story of a couple of twins from Holy Trinity Catholic continues to unfold as Jason and Vasin Thurman earned a return trip to the Byrnes Park Tennis Center in Waterloo May 24-25th and the Iowa State Tennis Tournament.

This time the two, who play for Fort Madison High School in a shared tennis program, will be taking HTCH senior Sam Avery along for the ride.

The Thurmans swept through the doubles field at Friday’s Class 1A district tennis meet at Fairfield Middle School and will have a seeded-spot at the state tourney.

Senior Sam Avery was the top seed at the districts in singles action, but was tripped up by West Burlington/Notre Dame’s Travis Wills in the finals 6-3, 6-3.

‘He played a really thought-out match and was really consistent today. He really played a good match and was more relaxed than I was. He’s a good player,’ Avery said.

In 2018 Avery teamed up with senior Austin Krueger in doubles and just missed following the Thurman’s to the state meet, so the trip this year is a goal reached.

‘I’ve been trying to do this since I was a sophomore and I really want to do it in my senior year’ Avery got a bye in the first round and then knocked off Mt. Pleasant’s Clayton Henrksen 6-1, 6-0. In the state tourney starts in two weeks.

Vasin Thurman fires a serve in his double finals match Friday afternoon. Thurman and his twin Jason Thurman qualified after winning the district doubles meet without dropping a set. The state tourney starts in two weeks.

"My favorite part of working at FMCH is my co-workers. We all help one another! Every department pitches in wherever needed with a smile and positive attitude. Many people have made a difference in my career at FMCH. I would especially like to recognize Audrey Housel and Sara Newton, who I work closely with, they are two of the most patient oriented people. They truly are so kind and do everything for the patient first," commented Holtkamp.

MT. PLEASANT – It was a bittersweet day on Friday afternoon for the Fort Madison Bloodhound boys and girls track team…but a bit more on the sweet side.

The Hounds qualified six runners for state at the State Qualifying event held Friday afternoon at the MapleLeaf Complex in Mt. Pleasant.

Junior Matt Hellige will be running in both the 3200- and 1600-meter runs at Drake Stadium on Thursday and Saturday. Hellige finished second to Mt. Pleasant’s Cody Mertens in both events Friday. Mertens suffered an injury at the beginning of the season and had been closing in on Hellige gradually throughout the year.

Mertens’ win in the 1600 was the first time he’d beaten Hellige in that event this year.

Quentin Schneider will represent the Hounds in the 400-meter hurdles with a second place 56.60. Schneider was a second behind Fairfield’s Ethan Hunt.

The girls shuttle hurdle relay team of Reyna Lampe, Taylor Barnes, Olivia Williams and Raquel Schneider surprised everyone by beating their season best by close to six seconds and took second for an automatic bid.

Schneider was a late-season addition to the squad and ran the final leg trying to catch Mt. Pleasant speedster Karsyn Lamm. Mt. Pleasant won the event at 1:09.62, while the Hounds were right behind at 1:10.37.

Head Coach Brian Mendez said Schneider, who’s a freshman this year, was informed on the van ride up that she would be running her leg against Lamm. “Oh no!…..Who’s that?” Schneider said.

“It will be the first trip to state for either of the four girls and Williams, the only senior in the group, said she’s was surprised by the time. “We just were trying to do our best and PR. We knew we’d have a shot at qualifying, but we didn’t know we’d have that time,” she said.

Mendez said Fort Madison girls haven’t qualified in a hurdle event in a long time. “Never once have the girls given up this year. We tell them we need another second or two and they go get it. We’ve back in Fort Madison that we qualified in the shuttle hurdle they probably wouldn’t believe you,” Mendez said.

The girls numbers were way down this year, but Mendez said the performance of the shuttle hurdle exemplifies what the year has been like. "We’ve had most of our success in distance events. If you were to tell anyone back in Fort Madison that we qualified in the shuttle hurdle they probably wouldn’t believe you,” Mendez said.

Fort Madison’s Taylor Barnes flies over a hurdle in the girls shuttle hurdle relay. The Lady Hounds finished second in the event at Friday’s state qualifying meet giving them an automatic entry in to the Iowa State Track Meet next week at Drake Stadium in Des Moines.

State Qualifiers

had personal records all through the year...but this was six seconds better. I don't even know where that came from," he said.

Hellige is the only Bloodhound returning to Drake Stadium for the state meet. He qualified in the 3200-meter run as sophomore where he finished 22nd with a time of 10:36, but had a season best 10:08 in 2018 and has run a sub-10 minute time on several occasions this year.

"Getting here I just had a good feeling about tonight. It was sunny and not too windy and really good race conditions," Hellige said.

"This race I really just wanted to give it my all and try my best to qualify. I have had some really good races in the 3200 and 1600 this year and I don't necessarily think this was my best effort but qualifying was the most important thing tonight."

In the 1600, Hellige crossed at 4:36.95, 3.4 seconds behind Mertens.

Schneider will be making his first trip to the state tournament qualifying with 5.60 in the 400 hurdles, about a full second behind Washington's Ethan Hunt.

"I always want to be the first one to the first hurdle that's kind of my goal. I think it's 5.66 to the first, that's what I think it should be, and then keep that pace going. Then on the back stretch kick it in as much as I possibly can," said a winded Schneider after the run.

"I'm happy that I get to go to state. I would have loved to win, but Ethan Hunt is a fast kid."

The bitter of the event came in the 4×400 relay team. The Hounds won that event at the conference meet last week with Brock Califf, Garrett Hannum, Andrew Schaeffer and Schneider with a 3:34.19. But came in fourth Friday behind Washington's Ethan Hunt.

"We ran good tonight. They have nothing to be ashamed about. We're a really good team. They just did a good job tonight," said Hellige.

"We ran good tonight. They have nothing to be ashamed about. We're a really good team. They just did a good job tonight," said Hellige.

"I think we kind of had a target on our back in that event after winning the conference meet," said Fort Madison's co-head coach Mike Schneider. "We had high hopes for that event, but Mt. Pleasant I think had a bit of a different team and Washington just ran awesome."

"Co-Head Coach Chad Hannum, said the boys have run hard all year.

"We ran good tonight. They have nothing to be ashamed about. We're a really young team with just a couple of seniors and juniors, but the majority of this team is sophomores and freshman and we'll get better."

Bloodhound junior Matt Hellige shakes hands with Mt. Pleasant’s Cody Mertens after the two finished 1-2 in the 3200-meter run with Mertens taking first place. Both runners qualified for the Iowa State Track meet next weekend in Des Moines.

their way with retention and this is just another example of Lee County being at the forefront of addressing retention, expansion, and workforce issues.

“A lot of communities are still trying to figure out how to connect businesses and education and we are leaps and bounds ahead of that,” Millard said.

“We have a lot of different programs through Grow Lee that have industries' and employers' input that others don’t. We’re using this award to build on that momentum with our Bigger, Faster, Better campaign trying to impact more students and do it in a better way.

“We are thrilled and humbled to accept this award on behalf of all of our stakeholders and community partners,” commented Lee County EDG COO Dennis Fraise. “This recognition is a testament to Lee County Economic Development Group's community focused, collaborative economic development strategy.”

Grow Lee is a collaborative effort spearheaded and facilitated by Lee County Economic Development Group to create bold ideas and action plans for their future workforce needs. The organization created the 12 Plus program to be led by local industry to provide STEM and career exploration opportunities for Lee County residents and students.

It includes employability classes, student team projects for local industry, industry tours, and more. Grow Lee affected over 3,800 students last year and is projected reach over 4,000 this year.

Outcomes of the program include:
- Over 3,800 students participating in Grow Lee or STEM programming
- Over 400 Lee County students exploring local careers
- 92% of Lee County schools participating in STEM Scale-ups in the past 4 years
- Grow Lee being featured at the Governor's STEM Education and Future Ready Iowa Conference

Grow Lee has been a multi-year process that requires a range of individuals working together for a common goal; create a talent pipeline and connect it with local careers.

teacher in Danville in 1994. She was instrumental in establishing a summer school enrichment program in the town to promote the fine arts.

Her passion for education was clear, as she served as Vice President of the Fort Madison school board and was elected to the board for two terms.

A strong asset to her community, Young held the honor of being the first auxiliary member for the Denmark Volunteer Fire Department and was its most recent Secretary/Treasurer. Her work on the Denmark Betterment Group helped raise $20,000 for the town’s tornado siren.

Young believed that SCC provided her with an opportunity to gain a valuable education close to home, while raising her children as a single parent. In her mind, SCC offered the stepping stone to a life career of educating others.

Salladay will travel from Virginia to represent her sister.

Both pre-graduation receptions are open to the public and include hot and cold hors d’oeuvres and beverages for a free-will donation.
