City finalizing plans for inaugural cruises

Volunteer sign-up set for Thursday at Partners office

FORT MADISON – With the inaugural docking of American Cruise Lines in Fort Madison one week away, city and business officials are busy getting things buttoned up.

Things have changed a little since the city and cruise line inked a 20-year lease agreement for the cruise line to dock on Fort Madison’s riverfront.

City Tourism Director Jean Peiton said now passengers on the shorter 6-hour port-of-call will have two land excursion options to choose from and the longer 8.5 hour port-of-call will have four options. The first arrival will be Tuesday, Aug. 6 at 8 a.m. The cruise line will bring three different boats into Fort Madison 14 times this year with five in August, five in September, and four in October with the final boat docking on Oct. 16. There are back-to-back stops on Sept. 18 and 19th. Beginning next year, 30 cruise docks are planned during the cruising season.

The six hour layovers arrive at 8 a.m. at the end of the pier and depart at 2 p.m., while the 8.5 hour stays arrive at 9 a.m. and depart again at 5:30 p.m.

The cruise line will charter Trailways buses to move the passengers on the excursions, but Peiton said they are also negotiating with the schools to possibly use a school bus to shuttle people around the city for drops and pickups.

“When they’re coming in on the 8-2 two excursions...”

Trade issues prompt USDA payment program

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Signup opened Monday for the Market Facilitation Program (MFP), a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) program to assist farmers who continue to suffer from damages because of unjustified trade retaliation from foreign nations. Through MFP, USDA will provide up to $14.5 billion in direct payments to impacted producers, part of a broader trade relief package announced in late July. The sign-up period runs through Dec. 6.

“Our team at USDA reflected on what worked well and gathered feedback on last year’s program to make this one even stronger and more effective for farmers. Our farmers work hard, are the most productive in the world, and we aim to match their enthusiasm and patriotism as we support them,” said Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue.

Dairy producers who were in business as of June 1, 2019, will receive a per hundredweight payment on production history, and hog producers will receive a payment based on the number of live hogs owned on a day selected by the producer between April 1 and May 15, 2019.

MFP payments will also be made to producers of almonds, cranberries, cultivated ginseng, fresh grapes, fresh sweet cherries, hazelnuts, macadamia nuts, pecans, pistachios, and walnuts. Each specialty crop will receive a payment based on 2019 acres of fruit or nut bearing plants, or in the case of ginseng, based on harvested acres in 2019.

Payments will be made in up to three tranches, with the second and third tranches evaluated as market conditions and trade opportunities dictate. If conditions warrant, the second and third tranches will be made in November and early January.

MFP payments are limited to a combined $250,000 for non-specialty crops per person or legal entity. MFP payments are also limited to a combined $350,000 for dairy and hog producers and a combined $250,000 for specialty crop producers. However, no applicant can receive more than $500,000. Eligible applicants must also have an average adjusted gross income (AGI) for tax years 2015, 2016, and 2017 of less than $900,000, or 75 percent of the person’s or legal entity’s average AGI for those tax years must have been derived from farming and ranching. Applicants must also comply with the provisions of the Highly Erodible Land and Wetland Conservation regulations.

Volunteers need to help with arrivals

they can pick to go on two, and then they can also do their own thing. One of those we’re working on is not concrete yet, but looks like it will be finalized, is going to the prison. The Old Fort is the one they will have given to them, but don’t need the bus because that’s right there,” she said.

“When they’re here for the longer 9 to 5:30 p.m stays they’ll be offered four different excursions, two in the morning and two in the afternoon. They could typically pick any of the four.”

Peiton said some of the options would be historic tours that would include the depot, a park-to-park excursion in the historical district, and getting a concept visit of the prison, but not the full tour as those four would be shorter excursions.

“We’re still trying to square away some of those and trying to get access to the jailhouse and the Lutheran Church where the Betsy Ross flag hangs. Places they can get off and stretch their legs, but not stay too long.”

The city, along with other entities like the Fort Madison Chamber of Commerce, is working up a grand welcome for the first docking which could include dignitaries, a band, a cannon shot and welcoming groups.

Peiton said the city’s trying to build things to keep the passengers local.

“They told us on conference call they were looking at disembarking and then going to Burlington and we certainly don’t want that,” she said. “And we don’t see that happening. That’s why we’re so heavy into planning.”

Peiton said Fort Madison Chamber coordinator Savanna Collier is working on an agri-tour that would take passengers west of town to places like Harvestville Farms and Appleberry Orchards.

“I told the boats that would be a nice one with October because now you’re out on the scenic drive with the trees turning colors,” Peiton said.

“A lot of things are getting accomplished in a short amount of time. If this was Hannibal they’d be ready because they’re doing it now, but here in Fort Madison we weren’t quite there when they said they were coming, but we’re getting there.”

Peiton is holding a volunteer sign up session on Thursday starting at 10 a.m. at the Fort Madison Partners office at 614 9th Street.

Volunteers will be recruited for Community Beautification, Meet & Greets, preparation of greeting packets, passenger assistance and help with non-profits.

Volunteers would also be needed as step-on guides for some of the tours, but the cruise line would pay for those services. Peiton said she’s already paid by the city for that service, so she would donate any money she makes to non-profits in town, but others could be compensated.

“We want to control the product. I don’t want to offer one thing and then have someone else come in and not give the same product. We can adjust it through the season but we have to be on message with all the tours,” she said.

The plan is to end the first tours on Main Street where passengers can get off and hit the shops and tour the buildings, but they need to have access to the stores.
